Share prices of Roborock and Ecovacs, RVC leaders within our coverage, have underperformed the consumer durable peers/market YTD (c. -30% vs -17%/-1% of coverage average/CSI300), primarily due to investor concerns on: 1) domestic demand yoy growth pressure on high comp base, 2) potential overseas demand slowdown risk due to rising energy prices, and 3) potential margin pressure on competition from Dreame, and cyclical headwinds from cost inflation and FX. Despite such market concerns, we forecast generally resilient 2Q26 results as: 1) domestic growth has been better-than-feared supported by ongoing RVC penetration increase, 2) overseas demand (esp. in Europe) remains robust as leading players continue to expand into new markets/channels leveraging competitive products, 3) margin stays largely stable with Dreame signaling a scale back from its previous expansionary strategy (news link) while overall ASP stays steady. Additionally, we expect the FX headwinds to be partially offset by other non-recurring items including US tariff refund and investment gains.

Stock-wise, we expect Roborock to continue to outpace the industry driven by revenue growth acceleration (supported by share gains in RVC and expansion into wet-dry vacuum cleaners) and margin recovery (aided by scaling back on washer-dryer investment) in 2Q (+27%/+20% revenue/profits yoy growth in 2Q). In comparison, we expect Ecovacs to deliver healthy yet slightly slower growth mainly driven by overseas revenue growth and investment gain from its portfolio companies (+15%/+15% revenue/profits yoy growth in 2Q).

- Demand/Growth: Cleaning appliances' demand remained robust on global level, and came above our previous expectations on more resilient domestic growth despite a challenging comp base, as well as strong overseas growth partly attributable to earlier Prime Day this year (June 23-26 in 2026 vs July 8-11 in 2025).
  - In the domestic market, despite a high base last year boosted by trade-in stimulus, industry growth sequentially improved during 618, stronger than most other appliances categories on ongoing penetration increase and above previous market expectations in our view. Both Roborock and Ecovacs reported 20%+ cleaning appliances GMV yoy growth during 618, which could help make up the seasonal weakness before/after the major promotion event. Company wise, Roborock gained share notably (+10ppt/+13ppt to 35%/29% market share in RVC/wet dry vacuums on JD and Taobao+Tmall in 2Q26 per Moojing), while share for Ecovacs/Tineco was largely stable at ~30%.

- Overseas demand remained robust growth as shown from both app downloads and Amazon US sales data (~40% yoy growth in 2Q). Roborock further outpaced the industry driven by share gains particularly in the US market aided by its penetration into key offline retailers including COSTCO. Ecovacs also recorded robust growth alongside the industry, together with strong growth from robotic lawn mowers (read-across from Ninebot).

- Margins: We expect net profits to grow at a slower pace vs revenue growth to mainly reflect cost and FX headwinds, yet there are also positive factors including higher focus on expense ROI, company specific actions including scaling back loss-making business, investment gains and tariff refund. Pricing showed mixed trends where RVC generally came more resilient than wet dry vacuums in domestic market. Per Rororock and Ecovacs management teams, they have ceased to subsidize consumers out of their own pockets this year and aim to achieve stable RVC pricing. On Amazon US, although industry ASP is moving up, leading Chinese players' ASP showed diverging trends.

Going forward, we continue to forecast resilient and faster overseas revenue growth (vs the domestic market) driven by stronger overseas demand and leading Chinese players' global share gain. We remain cautious about the potential drag on demand from high energy prices but so far haven't seen any concrete signs of demand slowdown. Between Roborock and Ecovacs, we believe Roborock is better positioned in case of any industry-level demand slowdown considering: 1) the company has significantly enhanced its presence in key US offline retailers (i.e., COSTCO) which we expect to lend additional boost to its US sales growth, and 2) the company has been rolling out wet-dry vacuum cleaners in overseas markets (esp. in Europe and APAC) which we expect to drive incremental revenue growth in addition to core RVC.

Accordingly, we revise up our 2026E-28E EPS for our covered RVC companies by 3%-12% to reflect the above changes, and revise down exit multiples to reflect the higher growth uncertainty/volatility due to competition and geopolitical tensions. Combined, this leads to our 12m TPs remaining largely stable. We are Buy rated on Roborock as we expect faster growth driven by continuous global market share gains, new product expansion esp. wet dry vacuums and margin recovery after business strategy adjustment esp. in China. We are Sell rated on Ecovacs on a relative basis as we see rising domestic growth pressure for Ecovacs facing competition in both RVC and wet dry vacuums on a high base which we expect to lead to slower growth compared to Roborock.

Investment Thesis, Valuation and Risks

Beijing Roborock Technology (688169.SS)

Investment Thesis: Roborock is the global leader in robotic vacuum cleaners (RVCs) with an expanding product range and channel expansion growth runway. We believe the company is well-placed for continued global market share gains, driven by: 1) further progress in channel expansion especially in overseas markets; 2) enhanced marketing and branding investment; 3) SKU expansion outside of its core RVC products, such as wet dry vacuums and robotic lawn mowers. Since the company adopted a more proactive branding/marketing strategy in 2H24, the company has been gaining share at a faster pace in both overseas and domestic markets. With most of the previous margin drags (i.e., over-investment in new product, US tariff, Europe business model transition, and self-borne subsidies in China) generally lifted, we see favorable risk-reward for the stock and expect it to resume fast profit growth driven by resilient revenue growth and strong margin recovery.

Valuation: Our 12-m TP of Rmb170 is based on a 17x exit P/E multiple applied to our 2028E EPS and discounted back to 2027E using a 9.5% cost of equity.

Downside risks: 1) intensifying competition in domestic/overseas markets; 2) slower-than-expected product launches or new category expansion; 3) aggressive branding/marketing investment in new products to impact profitability; 4) a decline in disposable income and consumer confidence from weaker macro conditions; 5) potential increase in US tariffs may reduce US business profitability.

Ecovacs Robotics Co. (603486.SS)

Investment Thesis: Ecovacs, the leading cleaning appliances company by market share in China, has strengths in a comprehensive product portfolio and distribution network (both offline and online) leveraging a dual-brand strategy (Ecovacs for RVC and Tineco for wet-dry vacuums and other small appliances). While we remain positive on 1) the long-term potential of cleaning appliances especially RVC in both the domestic and overseas markets and 2) Ecovacs' market share gain potential overseas, we are cautious about competition for cleaning appliances in the domestic market, especially for wet-dry vacuums, as well as the challenges in defending its market share without hurting margins. We see less favorable risk-reward for Ecovacs vs. its peers and are Sell rated.

Valuation: Our 12-m target price of Rmb56 is based on an exit multiple of 16x applied to our 2028E EPS and discounted back to 2027E using a 9.5% cost of equity.

Upside risks: 1) faster demand recovery supported by better-than-expected macro conditions; 2) better-than-expected product development/expansion; 3) easing competition.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
