Ninebot is expected to release its 2Q26 results in on Aug 10. We expect the company to report sequential revenue growth acceleration (+27% yoy in 2Q26 vs +15% yoy in 1Q26) driven by accelerating growth from robotic lawn mowers and 2B scooters, while E2W, 2C scooters and all-terrain vehicle maintained similar robust revenue growth momentum as 1Q. On margins, we foresee continued yoy pressure due to FX and cost headwinds, but expect the margin pressure to notably narrow qoq (net profits -5% yoy in 2Q26 vs -55% in 1Q26) as FX denominated trade balance decreased and product mix tilted towards higher-margin robotic lawn mowers (RLM) and 2B E-scooters in 2Q26. If excluding FX negative impacts (expected FX losses in 2Q26 vs ~Rmb180mn FX gains last year), we expect DD% recurring profits growth.

Ninebot's share price has rebounded by 11% post its investor day (vs -5%/0% for CSI300/our coverage average), where management presented a clear five-year growth roadmap with continuous outperformance across different business segments. We still see favorable risk-reward with the stock trading at 15.5x 26E P/E (vs. 20x avg fwd PE in the past two years), with 4% dividend yield and Rmb150-300mn buyback for cancellation (implying 0.5%-1% of shareholder return). We expect sequential improvements into 2H, particularly recovery of E2W demand and easing cost inflation/FX headwinds, to drive re-rating of the stock. Key catalysts include sequential profits growth improvements from its incoming quarterly results, improving domestic E2W demand and final settlement of the anti-dumping investigation on robotic lawn mowers (EU decided not to impose provisional anti-dumping duties yet continued the investigation on June 19).

We fine-tune our 2026E-28E EPS forecasts by -1%-3%, reflecting revised cost and FX assumptions partially offset by improving product mix. Our unchanged 12-m TP of Rmb62 is based on a 16x exit P/E multiple applied to our 2028E EPS and discounted back to 2027E using a 9.5% cost of equity. Reiterate Buy on its intact structural growth thesis, improving near-term profitability/domestic demand, and overall favorable risk/reward.

Preview by segment

- E2W: We expect Ninebot to continue to outperform peers with a teens% yoy growth in 2Q26 on back of market share gains against industry demand pressure. The above said, we note that industry demand has been in recovery trend since hitting trough in Jan-Feb. The yoy domestic demand decline has been narrowing vs 1Q (-13% yoy in 1H26 vs -17% yoy in 1Q26) as the industry enters peak season and players launch more new SKUs accordingly. Particularly, the decline notably narrowed to -4% yoy in June. Looking into 2H, we expect further improvement potential considering more contribution from recent new product launch, fading impacts from front-loaded demand due to trade-in subsidy boost/national standards transition, and a lower comp base especially into 4Q26.
- Robotic lawn mowers: We expect Ninebot's robotic lawn mower sales to more than double during the peak season in 2Q26, extending the structural growth momentum as indicated by strong app downloads growth tracked by SensorTower in our monthly tracker. Looking into 2H, we expect RLM sales contribution to be lower due to weakening seasonality, but expect its yoy growth to remain robust as overall demand remains strong.
- Electric scooters: We expect electric scooters sales to accelerate in 2Q vs 1Q, supported by 1) strong 2C growth extending the momentum in 1Q amid rising energy prices in Europe, and 2) delayed revenue recognition of 2B business from 1Q that would contribute a yoy growth in 2Q. Looking into 2H, we expect 2C growth to remain solid, while 2B growth to normalize.
- Cost inflation impacts: On cost inflation, management mentioned they have implemented a round of price increase in Apr alongside new product launches under an updated cost structure to mitigation cost impacts, and plans a second round of price increase with a similar magnitude in July. We thus expect the likely largest impacts from cost inflation in 2Q, and sequential easing pressure into 2H with price and mix adjustments gradually kicking in, together with recent input price pull-back.

- FX: We expect smaller drag from FX in 2Q vs 1Q (-Rmb248mn in 1Q primarily due to a combination of the company's large trade balance with European subsidiaries on robotic lawn mowers ahead of peak season and the sharp move in the EUR/CNY FX rate in a short period of time), considering the decreasing trade balance, enhanced hedging strategy and smaller magnitude of FX change. That said, we expect FX to continue to be a drag yoy considering its meaningful contribution in 2Q25 (Rmb227mn financial income in 2Q25).

Investment Thesis, Valuation and Risks

Investment thesis: We expect Ninebot to grow as an emerging global leader in micro-mobility and robotic lawn mowers, driven by: 1) Further market share gain in core domestic E2W with rising membership fee contribution supported by its product R&D strength as smart functions play a more important role in products, together with channel expansion and wider product offerings via its dual-brand; 2) Rapidly growing robotic lawn mower business riding on the structural growth of robotic adoption vs. traditional. We view Ninebot as better positioned to gain share leveraging its comprehensive product portfolio, established brand, and stronger presence in the offline channel; 3) Overseas expansion potential: We see near-term revenue and profits opportunities from E-Bikes in developed markets, benefiting from the rising electrification adoption on policy support and rising consumer preference for environment-friendly products. The fragmented market also leaves room for Chinese players like Ninebot to gain share leveraging its accumulated technology and competitive products. In the mid to long run, we see substantial revenue potential in emerging markets such as ASEAN countries where there is large ICE 2W ownership, current E2W adoption is low and the electric transition has been ongoing driven by supportive government policies.

Valuation: Our 12-month target price of Rmb62 is based on a 16x exit P/E multiple applied to our 2028E EPS and discounted back to 2027E using a 9.5% cost of equity.

Key risks: 1) Decline in disposable income and consumer confidence from weaker macro conditions; 2) Slower-than-expected product launches or new category expansion; 3) Intensifying competition in domestic/overseas markets; 4) Potential tariffs/anti-dumping duties may reduce profitability; 5) Higher-than-expected raw materials cost.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
