For 2026, we expect JCDecaux and Stroeer's OOH organic revenue growth to accelerate to +4.6%/+5.6%, broadly in line with market peers (and vs. +1.8%/+1.8% in 2025), driven by easier comps and major sporting events. Over the medium term, we remain constructive on the structural outlook for outdoor advertising, which remains the most resilient 'traditional' medium to the broader market share shift to digital, given its high ROI and the flexibility it offers to advertisers.

We also believe that the overall competitive environment has improved, becoming more rational over the past few years, with an increased focus on profitability as valuation multiples have compressed. We highlight recent M&A activity/ newsflow for OOH assets including oOh!media, Stroeer, and Clear Channel. Overall, we see JCDecaux as best-positioned to capitalize on the improved environment given its strong number 1 global position (~8% market share in 2025) in a fragmented market (no other player with >5% market share), and see potential for future contracts to be at a more attractive revenue share.

We preview JCDecaux's/Stroeer's 1H/2Q26 results: (1) for JCDecaux: we are slightly ahead of Visible Alpha Consensus Data for Q2 organic growth, with H1 EBITDA margin in line with consensus; and (2) for Stroeer: we are -3% vs. consensus for 2Q group EBITDA with revenues broadly in line.

Structural drivers of out-of-home advertising remain intact, with recent M&A activity/ newsflow

We remain constructive on the out-of-home advertising market

For 2026, we expect JCDecaux and Stroeer's OOH organic revenue growth to accelerate to +4.6%/+5.6%, broadly in line with market peers (and vs. +1.8%/+1.8% in 2025), driven by easier comps and major sporting events.

Over the medium term, we remain constructive on the structural outlook for outdoor advertising, which remains the most resilient 'traditional' medium to the broader market share shift to digital, given its high ROI and the flexibility it offers to advertisers. Our positive stance on OOH advertising reflects the ongoing digitalization of OOH inventory in premium locations, the development of programmatic buying solutions, improving audience measurement utilizing data for targeting (driving higher CPMs), and greater inventory utilization going forward at high operating leverage, particularly across street furniture. While there remains some geopolitical uncertainty (particularly in the Middle East, which represents ~5% of group revenue for JCDecaux) and a weaker macroeconomic climate persists in certain geographies (e.g., the German business climate survey remains challenging), we believe the structural drivers of OOH advertising are intact, driving a sustainable mid-single digit growth CAGR over the mid-term with respect to JCDecaux and Stroeer's OOH segment.

Competitive environment remains supportive with recent M&A activity

We believe the overall competitive environment has improved and become more rational over the past few years, with an increased focus on profitability as valuation multiples have compressed. Recent M&A activity/ newsflow for OOH assets has included:

- oOh!media: In June 2026, oOh!media received revised, non-binding indicative takeover proposals from Pacific Equity Partners (PEP), I Squared Capital, and Oaktree Capital Management, with offers converging at A$1.60 per share (valuing the company at approximately A$850 mn; see here). This follows a series of earlier proposals, including PEP's initial unsolicited bid of A$1.40 per share in April 2026 (here), I Squared Capital's A$1.45 per share offer in May 2026 (here), and a subsequent non-binding proposal from Bain Capital in early June 2026 (here), although latest reports suggest that Bain Capital has withdrawn.

- Stroeer: In April 2026, Bloomberg reported interest from private equity investors (led by I Squared Capital and Blackstone) regarding a potential purchase of Stroeer's core out-of-home advertising (OOH) business and digital content (Digital) business at a valuation of €3.5bn or more. However, later that month it was reported that Blackstone had withdrawn from the bidding consortium. This followed an earlier report in October 2025 that a consortium led by I Squared Capital was looking to acquire Stroeer's core out-of-home (OOH) and digital content businesses. However, reports suggest that Blackstone withdrew from the bidding consortium in April 2026. We also note that in Jan-2025, Stroeer released an ad hoc announcement confirming press reports that it had received indicative offers from private equity investors, following an earlier Bloomberg article that reported Stroeer was considering a €4bn sale, having received interest from private equity firms including Hellman & Friedman and KKR at around a €3bn valuation. That said, it was later reported in Feb 2025 that those two parties had left talks over disagreements on price.
- Clear Channel: In February 2026, Mubadala agreed to acquire Clear Channel, in partnership with TWG Global, for US$6.2bn (see our first take here). We note that this represents an acquisition multiple of ~11.7x on 2026E EV/EBITDA (based on LSEG consensus for EBITDA). In Oct-2023, Clear Channel stated that it intended to focus on the US market when it initiated a process to sell its Europe-North business (it completed the sale to Bauer Media in Apr-25), while at the same time, launched a strategic review of its Latin America business (with two deals completed through 2025).

Over the medium term, we see JCDecaux as best-positioned to capitalize on the improved environment given its strong number 1 global position (~8% market share in 2025) in a fragmented market (no other player with >5% market share), and see potential for future contracts to be at a more attractive revenue share. However, we remain mindful of the competitive pressure from scaled global digital platforms (such as Google, Meta and Amazon) that are looking to expand their advertising offerings and seeking to capture a greater share of overall advertiser budgets. We believe OOH advertisers will seek to continue investing in ad-tech, programmatic capabilities, and measurement infrastructure to remain competitive, which may impact near-term margins.

1H26 preview: JCDecaux: We are slightly ahead on Q2 organic growth with H1 EBITDA margin in line with consensus

We forecast 2Q26 group organic growth of +3.7%, above Visible Alpha Consensus Data (+3.2%) and company guidance (~+3%), driven by better-than-expected trading momentum in the Middle East (~-30% vs. ~-40% previously expected) underpinned by our flight traffic data (Exhibit 9). We expect solid momentum across the remaining geographies, particularly the US, the UK and LatAm, with China trends also improving through the quarter. Meanwhile, we expect the FIFA World Cup to generate an incremental ~€30mn of revenues split equally between Q2 and Q3 (implying a ~120bps boost per quarter) while we expect new contracts to have a broadly neutral impact in Q2 while delivering ~150bps benefit in Q3/Q4 (from Stockholm, Barcelona, and Carrefour retail media). Overall, we forecast 1H26 group EBITDA of €318mn, broadly in line with consensus at €320mn, implying margin of 16.6% (+10bps; in line with consensus). We forecast adj. net income of €110mn (vs. consensus: €82mn), driven by a guided ~€35mn benefit from the additional sale of APG in Apr-26 (following initial sale in May-24).

Within the mix:

- For Street Furniture, we forecast +4.8% organic growth in Q2 (from 6.8% in Q1), in line with consensus. We forecast 1H26 EBITDA of €226mn (consensus: €225mn), implying margin of 22.8% (+10bps yoy; consensus:22.7%).
- For Billboard, we forecast +1% organic growth (from -2.9% in Q1), below consensus at +1.9%. We forecast 1H26 EBITDA of €28mn (in line with consensus), implying margin of 11.0% (+10bps yoy expansion; consensus: 11.1%).
- For Transport, we forecast +3.0% organic growth (from a strong +7.5% in Q1), above consensus at +1.4%, mainly driven by expected improvement in Middle East revenues. We forecast 1H26 EBITDA of €64mn (consensus: €63mn), implying margin of 9.6% (flat yoy; consensus: 9.3%).

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
