

China Brokers & Asset Managers: Strong 2Q earnings as expected, likely 3Q momentum supported by ROE recovery

Recent 1H26 earnings pre-announcements from Chinese brokers point to another quarter of strong performance. Across the nine brokers that have disclosed guidance, average net profit growth is approximately 155% YoY, with CICC and CITICS reporting YoY growth of 78%-90% and 70%, respectively.

The earnings strength was primarily supported by continued momentum across both primary and secondary capital markets. A-share ADTV reached a record Rmb 2.9tn in 2Q26, while margin financing balances exceeded Rmb 3tn, reflecting sustained investor participation and supporting brokerage commissions and interest income. At the same time, A-share IPO issuance rose to Rmb 66bn, the highest level since 2024, while Hong Kong IPO activity remained robust due to a healthy project pipeline.

Looking into 3Q26, key areas to monitor include the sustainability of trading activity and IPO issuance, progress in capital deployment toward Hong Kong operations, and potential earnings contributions from upcoming technology listings. CICC management commentary suggests market activity remains resilient, while several brokers continue to expand their international platforms through capital injections and strategic transactions.

We maintain a preference for CICC-H and CITICS-A, given their leading positions in Hong Kong capital markets, growing international operations, and potential for medium-term ROE improvement through balance-sheet expansion and overseas business growth. CICC continues to benefit from its scale in Hong Kong investment banking and equities businesses, while CITICS is advancing its international expansion strategy through additional capital deployment, providing further flexibility for leverage optimization and business growth.

Recently, several brokers have released positive 1H26 profit alerts, with overall strong performance. The nine brokers that have disclosed their results reported average YoY net profit growth of approximately 155%. Among them, CICC expects to see YoY growth of 78%-90%, while CITICS anticipates YoY growth of 70%. Based on calculations from the profit alert ranges, CICC's implied 2Q26 net profit is approximately Rmb 4.1-4.6bn, representing a YoY increase of 81%-103% and a QoQ increase of 15%-30%, +61%-81% higher than GSe. CITICS's implied 2Q26 net profit is Rmb 13.1bn, a YoY increase of 82% and a QoQ increase of 28%, which is 56% higher than GSe.

We believe the broker sector's strong 2Q26 performance is largely in line with market expectations, primarily driven by sustained activity in both primary and secondary markets: 1) Trading sentiment in the A-share market remained high, with the 2Q26 ADTV reaching a historical high of Rmb 2.9tn and market turnover rate rising to 648%. Concurrently, the balance of margin financing and securities lending surpassed Rmb 3tn, a YoY increase of 63%, reflecting a continuous improvement in investor risk appetite and driving growth in brokerage commission and interest income. 2) Capital market financing activities showed a significant recovery. The A-share IPO fundraising volume reached Rmb 66bn, a YoY increase of 206%, setting a new high since 2024 and indicating that the recovery trend in the IPO market is continuing. At the same time, the Hong Kong IPO market maintained a high level of activity, supported by a robust project pipeline, which provided strong support for investment banking revenue growth.

Looking ahead to 3Q26, we believe the industry's profitability is likely to continue the positive momentum from 2Q; however, several factors still require close attention: 1) The sustainability of market activity. According to feedback from CICC's management, there are currently no signs of a slowdown in either market trading volume or the pace of IPO project progression, with a substantial pipeline of projects still set for release in the second half of the year. 2) Progress on capital investment in international business. CICC has indicated that its M&A transaction is expected to be completed in 3Q26. Post-completion, CICC expects the capital base to double, creating the conditions for a further pivot towards businesses with higher returns on capital and the company notes this could potentially initiate a long-term cycle of ROE enhancement. 3) Investment income opportunities from the listings of technology companies. As technology leaders like CXMT advance their listing processes, the investment gains that brokers have secured through early-stage equity investments and STAR Board co-investments are expected to be further realized per market and our expectations. However, this could also simultaneously lead to increased earnings volatility, in our view.

We reiterate our Buy ratings on CICC-H and CITICS-A. CICC remains one of the Chinese brokers with the most significant international advantages. According to management, the revenue and profit contributions from the company's Hong Kong business are at industry-leading levels. Notably, its market share in Hong Kong's investment banking business is holding at 25%-30%, its equities business possesses a significant competitive advantage, and its asset management and wealth management businesses are also experiencing rapid growth. Year-to-date, the company has injected approximately Rmb 100bn into its Hong Kong operations. Following the completion of the M&A, management expect its capital strength to be further enhanced, unlocking potential for long-term ROE upside. Meanwhile, as the major shareholder's private placement is gradually implemented, CITICS said capital investment in its international business will also accelerate, providing greater room for balance sheet expansion, leverage enhancement, and ROE improvement.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock’s total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region’s Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts’ investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs’ involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
