What's new

We continue to see catalysts in EV and AI playing out in 3Q26 as we outlined in prior notes (Setting the scene for a catalyst-rich 3Q on Jun 24 and Sharpening the scene on Jul 10). Xiaomi Robotics on Jul 13-15 announced several achievements:

1) Humanoid deployment: Xiaomi humanoids have improved the task success rate to 98% at self-tapping nut loading stations by Jul, from 90%+ in Mar when they were initially deployed, which is just 1pp behind experienced human workers. From July, humanoids have started taking on new logistics tasks such as sorting flexible center console side covers and folding returnable boxes with a 90% success rate, and achieved long-duration continuous operations with flexible workpieces for the first time. Despite the apparent gap in speed and volume, this places Xiaomi alongside global leaders (e.g. Figure AI) in deploying humanoids to active automotive production lines.

2) Embodied data/scene synthesis: Xiaomi-Robotics-U0, a 38B-parameter unified generative model, is designed to synthesize high-fidelity robot trajectories and physical interaction scenarios and mitigate the bottleneck of real-world data scarcity. The model uniquely unifies text-to-image generation, any-to-image editing, multi-view embodied scene generation, embodied transfer, and embodied video generation into a single architecture, allowing autoregressive scaling across modalities while preserving the geometric integrity and perspective consistency. As per Xiaomi, Robotics-U0 outperforms GPT-Image-2 in embodied scene generation and embodied transfer, and ranks No.1 on WorldArena, a unified benchmark for embodied world models evaluation.

3) Robot foundation model: Xiaomi-Robotics-1, a Vision-Language-Action (VLA) foundation model designed for end-to-end physical execution, was released as the cognitive and physical control layer. The model features large-scale pre-training involving 100k hours of real-world robot operation trajectories and 10k hours of cross-ontology post-training, which demonstrates a clean scaling behavior in VLM, and enables cross-ontology adaptation i.e. bipedal, quad, dual-arm, or wheeled systems. The model achieves state-of-the-art (SOTA) across multiple benchmarks (Exhibit 4), outperforming baseline open-source models such as Pi-0.5.

Implications

- Robotics: We see Xiaomi has completed the initial integration of its robotics framework across ontology/body, data and models, which may lead to a self-reinforcing loop (Exhibit 1) toward general-purpose industrial and domestic automation. We believe Xiaomi has clear advantages in deployment scenarios including its own manufacturing factories and a vast home AIoT ecosystem. Real-world deployment failures are analyzed and fed back into the scene generative model to synthesize similar edge-case scenarios; this synthetic data retrains the core foundation model, which is then redeployed to the physical hardware.

That said, we believe there remains a gap between Xiaomi and global leaders in real-world execution (e.g. Figure 03 models deployed at BMW Group Plant Spartanburg demonstrated fast speed for similar tasks) and model capabilities (e.g. with closed-source models such as Physical Intelligence's Pi-0.7, Figure's Helix 02, Optimus, and Gemini Robotics 1.5). Meanwhile, Xiaomi has not disclosed detailed architecture, such as cost structure, performance parameters, etc.
- AI monetization: As mentioned in our prior note, physical intelligence including embodied AI as one of the three monetization paths within Xiaomi's AI strategy. We expect Xiaomi Robotics to focus on more structured to-B commercial scenarios over the next 3-5 years, e.g. massive humanoid deployment at Xiaomi's factories (smart EV, smartphone and home appliance) and its partner factories, which resembles Tesla's strategy for Optimus in our view.
- Valuation: Post +24% share price performance QTD (vs. +3% for HSTECH) partially thanks to favorable flow, the current market cap implies 1) 15x 2026E P/E or 14x 12m-fwd P/E on Xiaomi core ex. smart EV, AI and other new initiatives; 2) 1.3x 2026E P/S on smart EV (vs. 0.75x as of Jun-end) driven by stronger sentiment on the upcoming SkyNomad launch, compared to 0.8x average P/S multiple of its domestic peers (BYD, Li Auto, XPeng and NIO); we believe there remains valuation upside for Xiaomi EV considering the faster revenue growth (GSe Xiaomi EV revenue 30%+ yoy in 2026E/27E vs. peer average mid-teen %), as well as potentially improved visibility into 2027E sales post the SkyNomad launch over the next month or so; 3) 0 value on AI, robotics and other new initiatives. 3Q26 may provide a potential turnaround opportunity from both narrative and financial perspectives, in our view.

Investment Thesis - Xiaomi Corp.

We see Xiaomi, which is the world's #3 smartphone brand and leading consumer AIoT/NEV platform, as still in the early stages of a multi-year ecosystem expansion against the backdrop of its "Human x Car x Home" strategy. In the longer term, we believe Xiaomi's robust balance sheet, strong capabilities in ecosystem integration, and cost advantages owing to scale and deep involvement in the EV supply chain will increase its competitiveness and appeal in EVs, and that Xiaomi is well positioned to build one of the largest consumer physical intelligence ecosystems globally leveraging its interconnected consumer terminals. We are Buy rated.

Price Target Risks and Methodology - Xiaomi Corp.

We are Buy rated on Xiaomi with a 12-month target price of HK$40, based on a SOTP valuation methodology: 1) 16x target 12m-fwd EV/NOPAT on Xiaomi core; 2) DCF-based valuation for Xiaomi EV of US$42bn (12% WACC and 3% TGR); 3) a 10% holdco discount. Key downside risks: 1) More intense competition and weaker market share gains within the global smartphone industry. 2) Higher GPM pressure on the smartphone/EV business. 3) Below-expected execution on Xiaomi brand premiumization and the EV business. 4) Intensifying geopolitical risks and regulatory uncertainties. 5) Softer macro environment and weaker smartphone/IoT demand. 6) FX fluctuation.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
