

Thailand / Vietnam Tech Tour: Top Six takeaways from factory visits across PCB, Networking, and AI server supply chain

We hosted 10 companies in a Thailand / Vietnam tour on July 7 – 10 across the AI servers and Networking supply chain from Greater China Technology: (1) PCB: ZDT (4958.TW, Buy) / Avary (002938.SZ, not covered), Victory Giant (300476.SZ, CL-Buy), WUS (002463.SZ, Buy), Delton (001389.SZ, not covered), Dynamic (603175.SS, not covered, Chairman visit), (2) Drilling tools: Dtech (301377.SZ, not covered), (3) Optical module, FAU, and (4) ODM: FII (601138.SS, Buy, Chairman visit). We summarize the key takeaways in this report. Read more: Make in Vietnam; Vietnam Tech Tour takeaways (2019); Make in India; India Tech Tour takeaways (2023); Thailand Tech Tour takeaways (2025).

Top Six Takeaways

1. Capacity expansion: Companies we visited in Thailand / Vietnam are all in capacity expansion, irrespective of how long they have been in the area, and the expansion is mostly for AI infrastructure, across AI servers, CPO switch, PCB for AI servers / optical modules, Optical modules, Optical engines, edge AI devices, etc. The capacity expansion reflects ongoing strong AI demand, emerging AI supply chain / ecosystem in Southeast Asia, and customers' requirement on production sites diversification, despite the lowering urgency since late 2025. The capacity expansion echoes our positive view on AI capex upcycle, which is driven by rising AI server racks, specification upgrade consumes more capacity (e.g. AI PCB with higher layers would consume more time pressing and drilling), and more IT racks to support AI workloads in AI data centers (e.g. LPU racks, CPU racks, networking racks, storage racks, power racks, cooling racks, etc.).

2. AI clusters in Southeast Asia: Capacity diversification has been driven by geopolitical tension, while mainland China remains the hub of manufacturing with comprehensive supply chain and strong production efficiency. Being close to customers or supply chain are usually the key reasons cited for why a company chooses certain country to diversify capacity: (1) Vietnam: Microsoft, Dell, Apple supply chain, such as Hon Hai / FII, AAC, Wistron, AVC, etc., (2) Thailand: Google, HP supply chain, such as Quanta, Inventec, Celestica, Auras, etc., (3) Malaysia: Amazon supply chain, such as Wiwynn, Chenbro, etc. Vietnam is close to supply chain in mainland China, only a 2-3 hour drive from the Vietnam-China boarder in Guangxi to major production sites in Northern Vietnam, such as Bac Giang or Bac Ninh, suggesting relatively better flexibility in logistics e.g. companies do not need to wait

Goldman Sachs does and seeks to do business with companies covered in its research reports. As a result, investors should be aware that the firm may have a conflict of interest that could affect the objectivity of this report. Investors should consider this report as only a single factor in making their investment decision. for flight or freight. Thailand is the largest automotive production hub in Southeast Asia, with a relatively comprehensive PCB supply chain in the country, attracting PCB suppliers.

3. Products in Thailand / Vietnam: Production sites in Southeast Asia are usually roles to meet global-tier clients' needs on diversification, and thus naturally for products already in mass production; however, these products are also high value-adds and for AI data centers, reflecting the capability of producing AI products in Thailand / Vietnam, despite lower efficiency compared to mainland China. Companies who are relatively new in the country could still produce the latest products in mainland China to secure the product quality, manufacturing speed, and proprietary information protection.

4. Labour and Hiring: Companies we visited shared that the labour costs is generally lower in Thailand / Vietnam compared to mainland China; however, the production efficiency is also lower. For example, the productivity of one person from mainland China could equal up to 3 from Thailand. We observe that campuses in Vietnam have sizable dormitories (e.g. up to 20k workers), while most campuses in Thailand have not yet set up a dormitory but offer transportation (e.g. bus) for workers. There are also more mandarin speakers in Vietnam compared to Thailand, reducing potential difficulties with training. Local workers are major contributors (50% or more of campus workers) in both Vietnam and Thailand, and hiring is not that difficult, especially in Thailand, as people from Myanmar are often employed. Turnover rate is also manageable. Companies we visited noted offering better compensation compared to local companies and with a solid working environment (e.g. air conditioning in factories) or move-up opportunities for local workers to join the management team.

5. Production costs: Companies we visited highlighted that mainland China remains the most efficient place for manufacturing given close proximity to supply chain and long experience. The labour costs in Thailand / Vietnam is lower compared to mainland China; however, the production efficiency is also lower. Besides this, if raw material (e.g. CCL) needs to ship from mainland China, the tariff and transportation costs could drive up the costs by 15-20%. Nevertheless, companies also mentioned customers are willing to pay even though the costs can be up to 20% more expensive compared to that in mainland China, and companies are adopting more automated production to reduce the reliance on workers and to explore potential to drive further productivity. Generative AI, AR glasses, and digitalization are also used in factories, supporting training and production lines duplication, which are especially helpful when expanding capacity overseas.

6. AI investments continue: ODMs we visited in Thailand / Vietnam remain positive on the AI capex upcycle, based on customers' request on capacity with willingness to prepay or subsidize the equipment to secure the capacity, expanding customer base on AI infrastructure and edge AI devices, and growing AI applications and token consumption. Companies we visited mentioned that AI capex from global leading CSPs (cloud services providers) remains strong, along with growing demand from model developers / NeoClouds, and could further expand to government (Sovereign AI), and enterprises, offering long-term sustainability on AI infrastructure demand. Companies also see global leading brand customers working on innovative edge AI devices, developing physical AI personal assistant, which could also drive AI demand. The positive tone echoes our positive view on AI servers, where we raised global AI servers implied AI chips shipment estimates by 14% / 22% / 14% in 2026-28E, US CSP capex raised by 8% / 27% / 25% in 2026E-28E, and China CSP capex raised by 37% / 44% / 55% in 2026E-28E (Global Server TAM June updates).

Company takeaways

Avary (002938.SZ, not covered): Key discussions focused on the company's Thailand capacity expansion progress, products / technology, strategy and location. Overall, management retains a strong commitment in capacity expansion in Thailand, with new capacity to contribute in coming quarters covering servers PCB, optical module PCB, and smart devices PCB. The factory is highly automated with renewable energy to secure the production speed, quality, volume, and sustainability. Read more: Avary Thailand tour takeaways.

Victory Giant (300476.SZ, Buy on CL): Victory Giant has three Thailand factory sites: A1, A2, and A3. A1 is already in mass production, and A2 is under construction, with the company aiming to start mass production in 3Q26. Key discussions focused on the company's Thailand capacity expansion progress, Thailand production efficiency, opportunities and challenges. Overall, management noted that the company's Thailand capacity expansion diversification is on track, and is positive on expanding high-end PCB products in Thailand sites, enabling the company to better support demand from global-tier clients. Read more: Victory Giant Thailand tour takeaways.

WUS (002463.SZ, Buy): Production in Thailand continues to increase with 90%+ utilization rate by 1Q26 and over 70% of their global-tier clients in data communication have completed plant verification, supporting Thailand factories future growth. We remain positive on WUS's leading position in AI networking PCB market, driving product mix upgrade and WUS's profitability. The company's overseas capacity should enable it better capture the rising AI PCB end-demand globally and enhance its product delivery capability amid the geopolitical uncertainties. Read more: WUS Thailand Tour takeaways.

FII (601138.SS, Buy): Management remains positive on the AI capex upcycle, and highlighted their competitive advantages in strong R&D, fully automated production, comprehensive offerings (components, servers, switches), and diversified production sites. The company has been in Vietnam for over 15 years, with strong production experience, low depreciation costs, close networking across supply chain, customers, and authorities. Capacity expansion in Vietnam is ongoing, which is for AI infrastructure, requested by customers, echoing our positive view on FII's leading market position. Read more: FII Chairman & Vietnam factory tour takeaways.

Dynamic Electronics (603175.SS, not covered): Key discussions focused on Thailand production sites expansion plan, PCB product mix, upstream material supply, Thailand production's opportunities and challenges. Overall, management is positive on rising capex spending on the company's Thailand production sites at Rmb3.3bn, which is mainly used for new capacity of P5 and P5A factories, targeting AI PCB products for AI servers, optical transceivers. Despite margin pressures on higher material cost and new capacity ramp up, management expects to see improving profitability ahead with scale expansion, PCB mix upgrade, and improving production efficiency. GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DAFCF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.

General disclosures

This research is for our clients only. Other than disclosures relating to Goldman Sachs, this research is based on current public information that we consider reliable, but we do not represent it is accurate or complete, and it should not be relied on as such. The information, opinions, estimates and forecasts contained herein are as of the date hereof and are subject to change without prior notification. We seek to update our research as appropriate, but various regulations may prevent us from doing so. Other than certain industry reports published on a periodic basis, the large majority of reports are published at irregular intervals as appropriate in the analyst's judgment.

Goldman Sachs conducts a global full-service, integrated investment banking, investment management, and brokerage business. We have investment banking and other business relationships with a substantial percentage of the companies covered by Global Investment Research. Goldman Sachs & Co. LLC, the United States broker dealer, is a member of SIPC (<https://www.sipc.org>).

Our salespeople, traders, and other professionals may provide oral or written market commentary or trading strategies to our clients and principal trading desks that reflect opinions that are contrary to the opinions expressed in this research. Our asset management area, principal trading desks and investing businesses may make investment decisions that are inconsistent with the recommendations or views expressed in this research.

The analysts named in this report may have from time to time discussed with our clients, including Goldman Sachs salespersons and traders, or may discuss in this report, trading strategies that reference catalysts or events that may have a near-term impact on the market price of the equity securities discussed in this report, which impact may be directionally counter to the analyst's published price target expectations for such stocks. Any such trading strategies are distinct from and do not affect the analyst's fundamental equity rating for such stocks, which rating reflects a stock's return potential relative to its coverage universe as described herein.

We and our affiliates, officers, directors, and employees will from time to time have long or short positions in, act as principal in, and buy or sell, the securities or derivatives, if any, referred to in this research, unless otherwise prohibited by regulation or Goldman Sachs policy.

The views attributed to third party presenters at Goldman Sachs arranged conferences, including individuals from other parts of Goldman Sachs, do not necessarily reflect those of Global Investment Research and are not an official view of Goldman Sachs.

Any third party referenced herein, including any salespeople, traders and other professionals or members of their household, may have positions in the products mentioned that are inconsistent with the views expressed by analysts named in this report.

This research is not an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any security in any jurisdiction where such an offer or solicitation would be illegal. It does not constitute a personal recommendation or take into account the particular investment objectives, financial situations, or needs of individual clients. Clients should consider whether any advice or recommendation in this research is suitable for their particular circumstances and, if appropriate, seek professional advice, including tax advice. The price and value of investments referred to in this research and the income from them may fluctuate. Past performance is not a guide to future performance, future returns are not guaranteed, and a loss of original capital may occur. Fluctuations in exchange rates could have adverse effects on the value or price of, or income derived from, certain investments.

Certain transactions, including those involving futures, options, and other derivatives, give rise to substantial risk and are not suitable for all investors. Investors should review current options and futures disclosure documents which are available from Goldman Sachs sales representatives or at <https://www.theocc.com/about/publications/character-risks.jsp> and https://www.goldmansachs.com/disclosures/cftc_fcm_disclosures. Transaction costs may be significant in option strategies calling for multiple purchase and sales of options such as spreads. Supporting documentation will be supplied upon request.

Differing Levels of Service provided by Global Investment Research: The level and types of services provided to you by Goldman Sachs Global Investment Research may vary as compared to that provided to internal and other external clients of GS, depending on various factors including your individual preferences as to the frequency and manner of receiving communication, your risk profile and investment focus and perspective (e.g., marketwide, sector specific, long term, short term), the size and scope of your overall client relationship with GS, and legal and regulatory constraints. As an example, certain clients may request to receive notifications when research on specific securities is published, and certain clients may request that specific data underlying analysts' fundamental analysis available on our internal client websites be delivered to them electronically through data feeds or otherwise. No change to an analyst's fundamental research views (e.g., ratings, price targets, or material changes to earnings estimates for equity securities), will be communicated to any client prior to inclusion of such information in a research report broadly disseminated through electronic publication to our internal client websites or through other means, as necessary, to all clients who are entitled to receive such reports.

All research reports are disseminated and available to all clients simultaneously through electronic publication to our internal client websites. Not all research content is redistributed to our clients or available to third-party aggregators, nor is Goldman Sachs responsible for the redistribution of our research by third party aggregators. For research, models or other data related to one or more securities, markets or asset classes (including related services) that may be available to you, please contact your GS representative or go to <https://research.gs.com>.

Disclosure information is also available at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html> or from Research Compliance, 200 West Street, New York, NY 10282.
