Heading into 2Q26 earnings, MedTech faces a confluence of macro and stock specific considerations — both in the context of marked YTD underperformance and most of the large cap stocks under coverage trading below their 20-year average multiples (see Exhibit 10). These performance dynamics reflect (1) decelerating growth broadly across the group; (2) maturation of recent product cycles that had supported above-trend sector-wide growth; and (3) and idiosyncratic headwinds at once-considered sector bellwethers.

Exhibit 1: Relative Sector Performance Market Cap Weighted YTD as of 07/09/2026

Heading into results, we take a neutral to cautious view on the broader macro backdrop. On the one hand, our 2Q26 Hospital Due Diligence Day and 2Q26 Utilization Diagnostic point to a challenged U.S. volume environment, where this quarter likely represents a step-up from last quarter but not a normalization in trend (i.e. no catch-up from what was hoped to be transient headwinds in 1Q like weather, flu, and heightened seasonality). On the other hand, most companies under coverage are not dialing in an acceleration to their forward growth outlooks nor is consensus (Visible Alpha Consensus Data, unless otherwise noted).

Specific to the quarter — and evaluating where our estimates shake our vs. consensus — our organic growth estimates sit either at or slightly below consensus (see Exhibit 8) with exceptions including ABT (GSe +60bps vs. consensus); ISRG (GSe +70bps vs. consensus); and MDLN (+130bps vs. consensus). In each case where we are above Street, drivers are specific to company-related factors (ABT: recovery from OUS Libre tender delay, Instinct shipments to MiniMed, easing Diagnostics comps, EP share gain; ISRG: higher U.S. I&A per procedure on Sp, Ion, and forced feedback mix; MDLN: quarterly phasing related to selling days and comps).

Turning to the balance of the year and guidance, we do not see meaningful risk to top-line outlooks since most companies have not considered a meaningful acceleration in 2026 guidance. For 2Q, we note that we project aggregated top-line organic growth to improve marginally QoQ, but most of this relates to Stryker's recovery from cybersecurity disruptions in 2Q and one-time inventory timing benefits at Solventum. Therefore, while we retain a cautious view on the direction-of-travel for macro trends, no company has assumed end-markets improve through the year. Down the P&L, we continue to forecast improving margins throughout the year, largely based on revenue scale and mix. Our current estimates do place heavy emphasis on 4Q, and we would expect EPS and/or margin upside in 2Q to be utilized as a counterbalance to 2H ramps. We remain vigilant on raw material trends but note on a trailing 30-day basis, most key input costs have come down (see Exhibit 6).

While a scenario where results are marginally better than expectations could support a short-term rebound in stocks, we think a sustained turnaround for the group needs to come from (1) more proactive capital allocation (both in boosting returns to shareholders and growth-oriented cash use); (2) appropriate calibration of estimates for 2026 and outer years; and (3) visibility into pipeline or other drives to accelerate performance.

Putting this all together, we continue to recommend selectivity across MedTech and highlight stocks where not only we see upside potential in the quarter (i.e. EW, OMDA, PODD) but also where the forward narrative (i.e. 2H26-2027+) can inflect positively, including: ABT and MMED.

Model Changes Text

We are revising our estimates to reflect updated views on key-end markets, share projections, FX, and other P&L dynamics. On balance, we are lowering our estimates across the sector. As top-line growth further decelerates and inflationary pressures flow through the P&L on a delayed basis, we expect companies to see incremental margin and EPS growth pressure. We remain concerned about several factors that we do not think are reflected in Street numbers or guidance, most notably guidance and forward outlooks (including from companies that have issued long range plans) do not contemplate any change in the macro operating environment (most notably utilization).

Summary of company specific updates:

- Abbott: Revising forecasts for Libre, EP, LAA, and Structural Heart businesses following market model deep dives, along with updated currency forecast.
- Baxter: Revising model for quarterly phasing, FX, and gross margin assumptions for FY26 and implications for FY27.
- Beta Bionics: Reflects earlier anticipated Mint patch pump approval.
- Bausch + Lomb: Model reflects updates to contact lens market and share assumptions, FX, and P&L assumptions.
- Becton Dickinson: Revising revenue estimates to reflect Alaris sales dynamics and FX headwinds, with EPS estimates now capturing TSA income reported in other operating income.
- Boston Scientific: Reduced revenue and EPS estimates for 2026 and beyond reflect further re-calibration of EP and WATCHMAN performance and related GM mix headwinds.

- Carlsmed: Immaterial updates.
- Dexcom: Updating estimates to reflect CGM market model changes: better OUS market share capture, push out in US T2 adoption curve (Medicare NIT timing), and changes to utilization.
- Edwards: Limited changes to near-term estimates; 2028+ revenue and EPS estimates re-calibrated slightly lower reflecting more conservative TAVR and TMTT estimates.
- GE Healthcare: Lower revenue estimates reflect anticipated headwinds in contrast media materializing as the year progresses. EPS revisions reflect lower GM related to a balance of higher chip/moment costs (-) and lower costs in for other commodities/freight (+).
- Glaukos: Limited estimate revisions largely reflect updated FX impacts.
- HealthEquity: Updating model to reflect latest Treasury yields and P&L flow-through.
- Insulet: Reflecting more near-term disruption from field corrective actions.
- LivaNova: Lower gross margins to reflect updated views on mix and input costs. 2028+ revenue and EPS estimates lower reflecting more conservative Neuromodulation assumptions given new epilepsy drug launches.
- MiniMed: Updating model for market growth assumptions and competitive product dynamics.
- Medline: Tapering margin expansion to reflect higher input costs and incremental spend on new customer adds, quality control, and expanding distribution footprint.
- Medtronic: Model reflects updates to EP market and share assumptions, FX, and P&L assumptions.
- Mobia: Limited estimate revisions largely reflect updated 10Q.
- Omada: Immaterial updates.
- Solventum: Recalibrating quarterly estimates for 2026, normalizing OpEx spend in line with typical seasonal patterns despite pull forward and unwind of sales expected in 2Q and 3Q.
- Stryker: Lowering gross margin estimates to reflect updated views on mix, input costs, and disproportionate growth in the more cost sensitive outpatient setting.
- Tandem: Slightly lower estimates on updated market model assumptions including earlier Mint approval timeline.
- Zimmer Biomet: Limited estimate revisions largely reflect updated FX impacts.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Quantum

Quantum is Goldman Sachs' proprietary database providing access to detailed financial statement histories, forecasts and ratios. It can be used for in-depth analysis of a single company, or to make comparisons between companies in different sectors and markets.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
