

Han's Laser Technology Industry

Strength across all business lines, reiterate Buy

H126 preliminary results were a strong beat

In its preliminary results, the company reported that H126 net profit rose by 156.1% to 176.6% YoY, representing a strong beat versus both our and Reuters consensus forecasts of 109% YoY. The strong growth was mainly owing to: 1) strong revenue growth (likely up 68% YoY), led by its core PCB and CE equipment business; and 2) improved recurring profitability (pre-exceptional NPM was up 9ppts YoY, based on the mid-point of the guidance). We continue to see the PCB and CE equipment segments as sustainable drivers, as we highlighted in our upgrade report (link), with growth momentum rising on the back of ultrafast laser drilling equipment for high-end HDI (High-Density Interconnector) and mSAP (Modified Semi-Additive Process) PCB, and Apple's solid procurement demand, in our view. PCB and CE equipment aside, solid demand was seen across other businesses, such as battery, pan-semi and other laser equipment. After factoring in the strong preliminary results for H126 and updating our assumptions for its major businesses, our earnings forecasts for 2026-28E rise by 22-74%, and we raise our price target to Rmb193.30 from Rmb92.00. We maintain our Buy rating given its solid fundamentals and attractive valuation (0.84x PEG based on 24x 2027E PE and 28% EPS CAGR for 2027-29E).

Strong performance across all business lines

PCB equipment H126 revenue was up over 100% YoY, driven by strong downstream demand and product mix improvement (including high-precision back drilling and ultrafast laser drilling equipment). The adoption of ultrafast laser drilling equipment has been faster than we expected, mainly driven by AI PCB and 1.6T optical transceiver demand. We think this growth momentum will continue in 2026-28, driven by more advanced PCB equipment applications, continued market share gains and product mix upgrades. CE equipment revenue was up more than 180% YoY in H126, likely driven by its largest customer, Apple, in our view. We see further upside in H226, led by foldable smartphone and 3D printing equipment adoption. Among other businesses, batteries/pan-semis/general purpose laser equipment revenue was up 45%/40%/30% YoY in H126, driven by growing AI exposure, we believe.

Earnings forecast changes

We revise up our earnings forecasts for 2026-28E by 22-74%, reflecting 16-40% higher revenue forecasts and 2-4 ppts higher blended GPM forecasts mainly to account for the improved product mix.

Valuation: Lifting our price target to Rmb193.30, maintain Buy

We raise our PE-based price target from Rmb92.00 to Rmb193.30, reflecting: 1) our higher EPS forecasts; and 2) an increase in our target PE multiple from 26x to 35x, implying an unchanged 1.2x PEG ratio. As we think that its growth cycle is likely to sustain in H226-2028, we still see its valuation as attractive.

UBS-S Research THESIS MAP a guide to our thinking and what's where in this reportPIVOTAL QUESTIONS*Q: Could Han's Laser's PCB equipment sustain 60%-plus growth in 2025-28E driven by new applications and customers?

Likely. We see multiple drivers that could boost its PCB equipment revenue, including substantially higher demand from AI&HPC applications, strong new capacity expansion plans from Chinese PCB suppliers, and Han's Laser's market share gains along with product mix upgrade. We forecast its PCB equipment revenue to achieve a 62% CAGR in 2025-28.

Q: Could the consumer electronics business resume 50%+ revenue growth in 2025-28?

Likely. Driven by its largest customer's product innovation cycle and a broadening range of laser applications, we expect Han's Laser's CE business revenue to achieve a 50% CAGR in 2025-28.

Q: Will Han's Laser's blended GPM continue to improve in 2025-28?

Yes. With a rising revenue contribution from high-margin PCB and consumer electronics equipment, we expect Han's Laser's blended GPM to improve by 6ppts over 2025-28.

UBS-S VIEW

After factoring in strong Q226 preliminary results and our latest industry discussion feedback, we revise up our revenue/earnings forecast by 16-40%/22-74% in 2026-28E, respectively, and lift our price target to Rmb193.30 from Rmb92.00. We estimate its PCB equipment/CE business revenue to grow at 63%/99% 2025-27E CAGR. We expect: 1) its high-value-added PCB equipment to penetrate into more AI PCB manufacturers ahead; 2) its leading global CE customer's innovation and new product cycle to drive increasing laser applications; 3) its other businesses, such as fibre, pan-semiconductor and low-power laser, are likely to contribute increasing revenue owing to their growing AI exposure. Factoring in these positives, we expect its net earnings to grow 151%/90% in 2026/2027, after a 30% decline in 2025.

EVIDENCE

PCB business: Han's CNC's NPM has grown from 10%/17% in Q225/Q126 to 20% in Q226E, owing to its product mix upgrade. Major AI PCB players, Victory Giant and Avary, have provided a positive capex outlook for 2026 (up 172% and 154% YoY, respectively) after industry capex doubled in 2025. Newly announced capex on industry AI PCB capacity expansion exceeds Rmb100bn. Han's CNC was Victory Giant's second largest supplier in 2025, with total PCB equipment shipments of Rmb1.27bn, accounting for 20% of Victory Giant's total capex. Consumer electronics business: Han's Laser's consumer electronics business recorded more than 180% YoY revenue growth in H126. We see its largest North America customer entering a flagship product cycle again.

WHAT'S PRICED IN?

Han's Laser is trading at 24x 2027E PE multiple (against our forecast of a 28% EPS CAGR for 2027-29E), which is significantly lower than its closest peers. We think its valuation is attractive at this level, considering its robust growth outlook in the next 2-3 years. Our 35x target PE multiple is 1.6x SD above its historical average PE of 28x, which we think is justified given its solid earnings growth outlook.

COMPANY DESCRIPTION

Han's Laser Technology Industry (Han's Laser) is a market and technology leader in laser-related equipment in China. The company was the largest PCB equipment supplier in the global market in 2025, and is a major supplier of laser equipment for consumer electronics applications.

Q226 preliminary results

Based on the preliminary results, H126 net profit rose by 156.1% to 176.6% YoY, implying a strong beat compared with both our and Reuters consensus forecasts of around 109% YoY growth. Revenue performance was strong across all business segments:

- PCB equipment: Han's Laser's PCB equipment revenue grew by more than 100% YoY growth in H126, implying around 100% YoY revenue growth in Q226. The growth was driven by increasing high-value-added equipment shipments, including high-precision back drilling machines and mSAP ultrafast laser drilling solutions. According to Han's CNC (Han's Laser's PCB equipment subsidiary), the PCB equipment business is likely to achieve an NPM of around 20% in Q226 (vs 10%/17% in Q225/Q126), reflecting a significant improvement in the product mix.
- Consumer electronics equipment: Han's Laser's consumer electronics business recorded growth in revenue of more than 180% YoY in H126, owing to penetration into a leading global consumer electronics player's innovation cycle.
- Other equipment:
 - Battery equipment: H126 revenue increased by around 45% YoY, benefiting from capacity expansion by large customers.
 - Pan-semi equipment: H126 revenue grew by around 40% YoY, driven by repeat AMOLED orders, and a recovery in the packaging and testing business.
 - General purpose laser equipment: H126 revenue increased by around 30% YoY, owing to the broadening range of applications for its low-power laser equipment.

Changes in our key assumptions

We raise our full-year revenue forecasts by 16% for 2026E, 29% for 2027E and 40% for 2028E, mainly reflecting the stronger-than-expected demand for consumer electronics equipment, PCB equipment, and other equipment.

The major reasons for the increase in our revenue forecasts are:

1. PCB equipment:

We lift our PCB equipment revenue forecast by 11-28% in 2026-28E, mainly to reflect the combined impact of: 1) a higher laser drilling equipment forecast, owing to rising demand for mSAP applications in high-end HDI (mainly for 1.6T optical transceiver processing); and 2) a higher forecast for mechanical and other drilling equipment (mainly formation and testing equipment for mSAP applications).

We see a number of major positives for the PCB equipment business including: 1) major AI PCB players, Victory Giant and Avary, provided a positive capex outlook for 2026 (up 172% and 154% YoY, respectively) after an industry-wide doubling in capex in 2025; 2) newly announced capex for AI PCB exceeds Rmb100bn, of which there is increasing advanced PCB capacity expansion (eg, high-order HDI and mSAP), which requires more high-value-added laser drilling equipment; 3) PCB equipment procurement in 2H26-2028 is likely to accelerate after infrastructure construction (such as land and plants) in 2025-26 in the industry; and 4) according to Victory Giant, its procurement from Han's CNC (Han's Laser's PCB subsidiary, dedicated to PCB equipment business) accounted for 20% of its total capex in 2025; as Han's CNC's products have been recognized by the global AI PCB market leader, we believe that Han's CNC's PCB equipment is likely to penetrate more AI PCB players.

2. CE equipment

We lift our consumer electronics equipment forecast by 6% in 2026E, due to the impact of: 1) a higher traditional application revenue forecast; offset by 2) a lower 3D printing equipment forecast for 2026E as we assume the majority of 3D equipment revenue to be recognised in 2027E vs our prior assumption of a more balanced revenue mix in 2026 and 2027. But we expect the combined 3D printing equipment revenue (Rmb5.5bn) in 2026-27E to be 31% higher than our prior forecast (Rmb4.2bn). We also lift our CE equipment revenue forecasts by 56%/73% in 2027-28E to reflect stronger procurement demand for typical applications and 3D printing equipment. We see a strong correlation between Han's Laser's consumer electronics revenue and Apple's product cycle.

Recent industry dynamics/evidence/catalysts include:

- Apple, the global consumer electronics leader, has entered a product innovation cycle, including photology (link) and VC cooling (link) applications.
- Apple is likely to broaden its titanium and 3D printing technology to more applications, such as forging for foldable phones (link) and likely iPhone mid-frames.
- Apple reportedly is likely to launch its first foldable iPhone in H226 (link), followed by more new products in 2027 (link), potentially including the second foldable product. Apple's foldable phone has entered into trial production and reportedly is likely to enter mass production in Q326 (link), which we think could be a vital catalyst.
- According to Han's Laser's announcement, Han's Laser decided on a Rmb20m capital increase to Han's Matrix (its subsidiary responsible for 3D printing), and recorded an equity incentive plan of Rmb113m for this subsidiary, which we view as a reflection of the group's confidence in and dedication to the 3D printing business.

3. Other businesses

We now expect higher revenue for its new energy (mainly battery equipment), pan-semi equipment (mainly because of stronger demand from packaging and semiconductor applications), as well as low-power traditional laser equipment (due to improved demand from diverse industries). We also factor its latest acquired fiber business into our model and expect the new business's revenue contribution at Rmb200m in 2027E and Rmb1.0bn in 2028E.

Earnings forecast changes

We revise up our earnings forecasts by 22-74% in 2026-28E, reflecting our 16-40% higher revenue forecasts and 2-4 ppts higher blended GPM forecasts (mainly because of the improved product mix).

Revisions to our valuation

We raise our 12-month price target for Han's Laser to Rmb193.30 from Rmb92.00. The upward revision reflects: 1) higher earnings forecasts due to the strengthening demand from PCB, CE and other equipment and higher margin due to improved product mix; and 2) an increase in our target PE multiple to 35x from the prior 26x, while still implying 1.2x PEG ratio (vs forward 2 years' earnings CAGR of 28%). Our 35x target PE multiple represents 1.6x SD higher than its historical average PE of (28x), which is appropriate to us given its solid and sustained earnings growth outlook. Han's Laser is trading at 45x/24x/18x 2026/2027/2028 PE multiples, lower than its closest peers but with higher 2026-28E earnings CAGR.

Company Description

Han's Laser Technology Industry (Han's Laser) is a market and technology leader in laser-related equipment in China. The company mainly offers low-power laser equipment, higher-power laser equipment, printed circuit board (PCB) equipment and light-emitting diode (LED) equipment, with automation production solutions available for clients. Downstream applications for its products are diversified and include consumer electronics, displays, electric vehicle (EV) batteries, automotives, PCBs and LEDs. Han's Laser is also a major laser equipment provider in Apple's supply chain.

Valuation Method and Risk Statement

We derive our price target based on a relative PE methodology.

Upside risks: 1) higher-than-expected capex by PCB manufacturers; 2) better-than-expected recovery in downstream consumer electronics demand; 3) faster-than-expected development of new energy; and 4) Han's Laser's major breakthroughs in R&D.

Downside risks: 1) lower-than-expected capex by PCB manufacturers; 2) worse-than-expected recovery in downstream consumer electronics demand; 3) slower-than-expected development of new energy; and 4) Han's Laser's products unable to meet market demand.

Quantitative Research Review

UBS Global Research publishes a quantitative assessment of its analysts' responses to certain questions about the likelihood of an occurrence of a number of short term factors in a product known as the 'Quantitative Research Review'. UBS Global Research: Global Equity Rating Definitions

12-Month Rating	Definition	Coverage ¹	IB Services ²
Buy	FSR is > 6% above the MRA.	55%	24%
Neutral	FSR is between -6% and 6% of the MRA.	40%	21%
Sell	FSR is > 6% below the MRA.	6%	21%

Source: UBS. Rating allocations are as of 30 June 2026.

1:Percentage of companies under coverage globally within the 12-month rating category.

2:Percentage of companies within the 12-month rating category for which investment banking (IB) services were provided within the past 12 months.

KEY DEFINITIONS:Forecast Stock Return (FSR) is defined as expected percentage price appreciation plus gross dividend yield over the next 12 months. In some cases, this yield may be based on accrued dividends. Market Return Assumption (MRA) is defined as the one-year local market interest rate plus 5% (a proxy for, and not a forecast of, the equity risk premium). Under Review (UR) Stocks may be flagged as UR by the analyst, indicating that the stock's price target and/or rating are subject to possible change in the near term, usually in response to an event that may affect the investment case or valuation. Equity Price Targets have an investment horizon of 12 months.

EXCEPTIONS AND SPECIAL CASES:UK and European Investment Fund ratings and definitions are: Buy: Positive on factors such as structure, management, performance record, discount; Neutral: Neutral on factors such as structure, management, performance record, discount; Sell: Negative on factors such as structure, management, performance record, discount. Core Banding Exceptions (CBE): Exceptions to the standard +/-6% bands may be granted by the Investment Review Consultation (IRC). Factors considered by the IRC include the stock's volatility and the credit spread of the respective company's debt. As a result, stocks deemed to be very high or low risk may be subject to higher or lower bands as they relate to the rating. When such exceptions apply, they will be identified in the Company Disclosures table in the relevant research piece.

This document is a general communication and is educational in nature; it is not an advertisement nor is it a solicitation or an offer to buy or sell any financial instruments or to participate in any particular trading strategy. Nothing in this document constitutes a representation that any investment strategy or recommendation is suitable or appropriate to an investor's individual circumstances or otherwise constitutes a personal recommendation. By providing this document, none of UBS or its representatives has any responsibility or authority to provide or have provided investment advice in a fiduciary capacity or otherwise. Investments involve risks, and investors should exercise prudence and their own judgment in making their investment decisions. None of UBS or its representatives is suggesting that the recipient or any other person take a specific course of action or any action at all. The recipient should carefully read this document in its entirety and not draw inferences or conclusions from the rating alone. By receiving this document, the recipient acknowledges and agrees with the intended purpose described above and further disclaims any expectation or belief that the information constitutes investment advice to the recipient or otherwise purports to meet the investment objectives of the recipient. The financial instruments described in the document may not be eligible for sale in all jurisdictions or to certain categories of investors.

Options, structured derivative products and futures (including OTC derivatives) are not suitable for all investors. Trading in these instruments is considered risky and may be appropriate only for sophisticated investors. Prior to buying or selling an option, and for the complete risks relating to options, you must receive a copy of "The Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options." You may read the document at <https://www.theocc.com/publications/risks/riskchap1.jsp> or ask your salesperson for a copy. Various theoretical explanations of the risks associated with these instruments have been published. Supporting documentation for any claims, comparisons, recommendations, statistics or other technical data will be supplied upon request. Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future results. Transaction costs may be significant in option strategies calling for multiple purchases and sales of options, such as spreads and straddles. Because of the importance of tax considerations to many options transactions, the investor considering options should consult with his/her tax advisor as to how taxes affect the outcome of contemplated options transactions.

Mortgage and asset-backed securities may involve a high degree of risk and may be highly volatile in response to fluctuations in interest rates or other market conditions. Foreign currency rates of exchange may adversely affect the value, price or income of any security or related instrument referred to in the document. For investment advice, trade execution or other enquiries, clients should contact their local sales representative.

UBS notes that no globally accepted framework or definition (legal, regulatory or otherwise) currently exists, nor is there a market consensus as to what constitutes an "ESG" (Environmental, Social or Governance) or an equivalent-label, or as to what precise attributes are required for the Information (as defined below) to be defined as ESG or equivalently-labelled. By receiving this document and the Information you will be deemed to represent and warrant to UBS that you will not use this document or any of the Information for any of the above purposes or otherwise rely upon this document or any of the Information.

UBS has policies and procedures, which include, without limitation, independence policies and permanent information barriers, that are intended, and upon which UBS relies, to manage potential conflicts of interest and control the flow of information within divisions of UBS and among its subsidiaries, branches and affiliates. UBS does and seeks to do business with companies covered in its research reports. As a result, investors should be aware that the firm may have a conflict of interest that could affect the objectivity of this report. Investors should consider this report as only a single factor in making their investment decision. For further information on the ways in which UBS Global Research manages conflicts and maintains independence of its research products, historical performance information and certain additional disclosures concerning UBS Global Research recommendations, please visit <https://www.ubs.com/disclosures>.

UBS Global Research will initiate, update and cease coverage solely at the discretion of UBS Global Research Management, which will also have sole discretion on the timing and frequency of any published research product. The analysis contained in this document is based on numerous assumptions. All material information in relation to published research reports, such as valuation methodology, risk statements, underlying assumptions (including sensitivity analysis of those assumptions), ratings history etc. as required by the Market Abuse Regulation, can be found on UBS Neo. Different assumptions could result in materially different results.

UBS Global Research may utilise artificial intelligence tools ("AI Tools") in the preparation of this document. Notwithstanding any such use of AI Tools, this document has undergone human review.

The analyst(s) responsible for the preparation of this document may interact with trading desk personnel, sales personnel and other parties for the purpose of gathering, applying and interpreting market information. UBS relies on information barriers to control the flow of information contained in one or more areas within UBS into other areas, units, groups or affiliates of UBS. The compensation of the analyst who prepared this document is determined exclusively by UBS Global Research management and senior management (not including investment banking). Analyst compensation is not based on investment banking revenues; however, compensation may relate to the revenues of UBS and/or its divisions as a whole, of which investment banking, sales and trading are a part, and UBS as a whole.

For financial instruments admitted to trading on an EU regulated market: UBS (excluding UBS Securities LLC) acts as a market maker or liquidity provider (in accordance with the interpretation of these terms under English law or, if not carried out by UBS in the UK the law of the relevant jurisdiction in which UBS determines it carries out the activity) in the financial instruments of the issuer save that where the activity of liquidity provider is carried out in accordance with the definition given to it by the laws and regulations of any other EU jurisdictions, such information is separately disclosed in this document. For financial instruments admitted to trading on a non-EU regulated market: UBS may act as a market maker save that where this activity is carried out in the US in accordance with the definition given to it by the relevant laws and regulations, such activity will be specifically disclosed in this document. UBS may have issued a warrant the value of which is based on one or more of the financial instruments referred to in the document. UBS and its affiliates and employees may have long or short positions, trade as principal and buy and sell in instruments or derivatives identified herein; such transactions or positions may be inconsistent with the opinions expressed in this document.

Within the past 12 months UBS may have received or provided investment services and activities or ancillary services as per MiFID II which may have given rise to a payment or promise of a payment in relation to these services from or to this company.

Please note that all transactions conducted by UBS are consistent with sanctions regulations imposed by Switzerland, the European Union, the United Nations, the United Kingdom and the United States, per UBS' global sanctions policy. UBS opinion as to future investment worthiness assumes no new sanctions are imposed.

US persons are prohibited from purchasing or selling securities of certain companies designated as being associated with the Chinese Military in accordance with the amended US Presidential Executive Order 13959.

Risk information:

You agree that you shall not copy, revise, amend, create a derivative work, provide to any third party, or in any way commercially exploit any UBS research, and that you shall not extract data from any research or estimates, without the prior written consent of UBS.

This document is for distribution only as may be permitted by law. It is not directed to, or intended for distribution to or use by, any person or entity who is a citizen or resident of or located in any locality, state, country or other jurisdiction where such distribution, publication, availability or use would be contrary to law or regulation or would subject UBS to any registration or licensing requirement within such jurisdiction.

This document is for your information only; it is not an advertisement nor is it a solicitation or an offer to buy or sell any financial instruments or to participate in any particular trading strategy. Nothing in this document constitutes a representation that any investment strategy or recommendation is suitable or appropriate to an investor's individual circumstances or otherwise constitutes a personal recommendation. By providing this document, none of UBS or its representatives has any responsibility or authority to provide or have provided investment advice in a fiduciary capacity or otherwise. Investments involve risks, and investors should exercise prudence and their own judgment in making their investment decisions. None of UBS or its representatives is suggesting that the recipient or any other person take a specific course of action or any action at all. By receiving this document, the recipient acknowledges and agrees with the intended purpose described above and further disclaims any expectation or belief that the information constitutes investment advice to the recipient or otherwise purports to meet the investment objectives of the recipient. The financial instruments described in the document may not be eligible for sale in all jurisdictions or to certain categories of investors.

Options, derivative products and futures are not suitable for all investors, and trading in these instruments is considered risky. Mortgage and asset-backed securities may involve a high degree of risk and may be highly volatile in response to fluctuations in interest rates or other market conditions. Foreign currency rates of exchange may adversely affect the value, price or income of any security or related instrument referred to in the document. For investment advice, trade execution or other enquiries, clients should contact their local sales representative.

The value of any investment or income may go down as well as up, and investors may not get back the full (or any) amount invested. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Neither UBS nor any of its directors, employees or agents accepts any liability for any loss (including investment loss) or damage arising out of the use of all or any of the information (as defined below).

Prior to making any investment or financial decisions, any recipient of this document or the information should take steps to understand the risk and return of the investment and seek individualized advice from his or her personal financial, legal, tax and other professional advisors that takes into account all the particular facts and circumstances of his or her investment objectives.

Any prices stated in this document are for information purposes only and do not represent valuations for individual securities or other financial instruments. There is no representation that any transaction can or could have been effected at those prices, and any prices do not necessarily reflect UBS's internal books and records or theoretical model-based valuations and may be based on certain assumptions. Different assumptions by UBS or any other source may yield substantially different results.

No representation or warranty, either expressed or implied, is provided in relation to the accuracy, completeness or reliability of the information contained in any materials to which this document relates (the "Information"), except with respect to Information concerning UBS. The Information is not intended to be a complete statement or summary of the securities, markets or developments referred to in the document. UBS does not undertake to update or keep current the Information. Options and futures are not suitable for all investors, and trading in these instruments is considered risky and may be appropriate only for sophisticated investors. Prior to buying or selling an option, and for the complete risks relating to options, you must receive a copy of "Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options". You may read the document at <https://www.theocc.com/about/publications/character-risks.jsp> or ask your financial advisor for a copy.

Investing in structured investments involves significant risks. For a detailed discussion of the risks involved in investing in any particular structured investment, you must read the relevant offering materials for that investment. Structured investments are unsecured obligations of a particular issuer with returns linked to the performance of an underlying asset. Depending on the terms of the investment, investors could lose all or a substantial portion of their investment based on the performance of the underlying asset. Investors could also lose their entire investment if the issuer becomes insolvent. UBS does not guarantee in any way the obligations or the financial condition of any issuer or the accuracy of any financial information provided by any issuer. Structured investments are not traditional investments and investing in a structured investment is not equivalent to investing directly in the underlying asset. Structured investments may have limited or no liquidity, and investors should be prepared to hold their investment to maturity. The return of structured investments may be limited by a maximum gain, participation rate or other feature. Structured investments may include call features and, if a structured investment is called early, investors would not earn any further return and may not be able to reinvest in similar investments with similar terms. Structured investments include costs and fees which are generally embedded in the price of the investment. The tax treatment of a structured investment may be complex and may differ from a direct investment in the underlying asset. UBS and its employees do not provide tax advice. Investors should consult their own tax advisor about their own tax situation before investing in any securities.

Important Information About Sustainable Investing Strategies: Sustainable investing strategies aim to consider and incorporate environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors into investment process and portfolio construction. Strategies across geographies approach ESG analysis and incorporate the findings in a variety of ways. Incorporating ESG factors or sustainable investing considerations may inhibit the portfolio manager's ability to participate in certain investment opportunities that otherwise would be consistent with its investment objective and other principal investment strategies. The returns on a portfolio incorporating ESG factors or sustainable investing considerations may be lower or higher than portfolios where ESG factors, exclusions, or other sustainability issues are not considered by the portfolio manager, and the investment opportunities available to such portfolios may differ.

Within the past 12 months UBS Switzerland AG, its affiliates or subsidiaries may have received or provided investment services and activities or ancillary services as per MiFID II which may have given rise to a payment or promise of a payment in relation to these services from or to this company.
