Retail Trading Activity Overview

- Although their overall buying remained moderate (~54%ile) amid conflicting US-Iran signals, Tech remained front of retail investors' minds and portfolios: headline ETF buying appeared soft (23.4%ile), but flows were concentrated in Tech sector ETFs, including SOXX (5.0z), QQQM (3.4z) and SMH (2.1z); this preference was reinforced by strong single stock purchases (71.4%ile) that were overwhelmingly driven by AI / Memory stocks.
- Trillion Dollar Club. We highlighted Memory as one of the major themes seeing increased retail allocation in recent months (e.g. report). Despite strong performance—including Micron and SK Hynix crossing the $1T market-cap milestone on Tuesday—there is little evidence of broad-based profit-taking by retail investors across the group, Figure 10. Instead, buying has remained persistent and elevated, with flows running at high sigmas in MU (+3.4z this week; Figure 14) and SNDK (+0.8z; Figure 18). In options, after briefly turning short delta in MU, retail traders have returned to a neutral stance, Figure 11. In DRAM, buying has plateaued, alternating between episodes of buying and profit-taking (0.0z; Figure 13). Looking ahead, our analysts remain constructive, as the 'financial outlook has strengthened since the March earnings call, with HBM, DRAM, and NAND tightness expected to continue "well beyond CY26"', see TMC Conference Takeaways.
- Our Software vs Semis Crowding analysis piqued the curiosity of our clients, see report and Figure 8 to Figure 11. Since then, there has been some reversal amid interesting developments within Software: this includes SNOW jumping 25-30% after markets on Wednesday, as the company announced a $6B deal with AMZN and raised its sales outlook; but also CRM, which gave a revenue outlook for 2Q26 which just fell short of analysts' estimates. Overall, retail has continued to sell PLTR (-1.2z) and PANW (-3.3z) but was positive on NOW (2.6z) and ZS (5.5z, Figure 13, driven by an outsized 12.0z "buy-the-dip" day on Wednesday as the stock declined -31.5%).
- Space stocks and ETFs have become increasingly in focus over the past few weeks. Within the theme, retail investors recorded their largest purchases in the NASA ETF (Figure 20), coinciding with the ETF receiving its strongest inflows since launch according to our Derivatives analysts, report. By contrast, retail investors generally took profits in the space as stock prices soared: this has been the case for RCLB (-1.5z, Figure 23), FLY (-0.4z, Figure 27) and ASTS (-2.7z, Figure 29), with moderate net buying in PL (0.8z, Figure 24). In options, call volumes in ASTS soared in May, Figure 30, as delta and gamma shifted from a negative to a positive stance, Figure 31.
- Quantum Computing stocks surged at the end of last week, following reports that the U.S. Department of Commerce would deploy $2B across nine quantum-related companies and take minority, non-controlling equity stakes as part of the awards. This includes IBM Quantum (who presented at our NY Quantitative and AI Conference, see Summary Through Illustrations), which is set to receive $1B (with the company also committing a matching $1B) — see Single Stock Stories with Elevated Retail Activity. Retail participation was sustained across the broader quantum complex, Figure 11.

- Is Retail P&L still holding strong? We set out to test our intuition that retail investors' performance has remained resilient, supported by effective positioning in Memory and AI stocks along with timely profit-taking in Space and Energy, report. Our refreshed P&L analysis indeed demonstrates a strong performance, especially in Single Stocks, Figure 2 and Figure 3. Within ETFs, retail's portfolio returns outpaced that of a Dollar Cost Averaging benchmark (DCA) in QQQ through late April; performance then softened as losses in Gold Miners exposure (JNUG, NUGT) and Mid-Caps (VO) weighed on results. Since then, the shortfall has narrowed, supported by increased leveraged positioning in semiconductors via SOXL. In single stocks, retail has unsurprisingly outperformed benchmarks over the past month or so, consistent with a concentrated tilt toward MU, AMD, and NVDA.
- The largest MSCI rebalance on record will be taking place this Friday, and has the potential to impact Mag-7 flows, report. MSCI announced the May 2026 QCIR results, including 18 additions and 46 deletions in DM and 30 additions and 56 deletions in EM. Estimated rebalance activity is $118.4B two-way (2.69%) in DM and $45.8B two-way (4.27%) in EM, with the largest DM weight increases in 285AJT, AMZN, AAPL, 4004 JT and the largest decreases in NVDA, GOOG, RYA, CRM, RMS.
- Quantitative Conference Highlights: “How will AI impact Institutional Investors' edge over Retail Investors?” “Which company is most likely to first surpass NVDA in market cap (whenever that happens)?” We asked these questions (and many more!) to our audience at the JPMorgan NY Quantitative and AI Conference last week. Answers are shown below in Figure 4 and Figure 5. Please reach out to us if you would like to receive survey results and/or session summaries — in the meantime, here is a preview: Summary Through Illustrations.

Retail Trading Activity in Numbers for the Week: May 20 to May 27

- Retail flows were at $6.3B this week, just below the 12-month avg of $6.7B/week. Retail investors continued to favor ETFs (+$4.6B) over Single Stocks (+$1.6B).
- Outside of Broad Based Equity ETFs (+$1.5B), retail ETF buying was influenced by Equity Sector Technology (+$254M), Equity Style Call/Put Writing (+$183M), Fixed Income — Multi Sector (+$170M) and Investment Grade ($147M).
- This week, and in line with prior weeks, retail investors continued to buy Growth, AI datacenters and electrification (JPAMAIDE), Top 30 AI/Datacenter Beneficiaries and Mag 7, along with US Companies with High Direct China Revenue Exposure and AI Software/Product/Monetization, see Figure 12.
- Activity in Mag7 this week: Retail investors bought: NVDA (+$756M), TSLA (+$243M), GOOGL/GOOG (+$113M), MSFT (+$48M) and sold META (-$8M), AAPL (-$24M) and AMZN (-$88M).
- Outside of Mag7, retail investors favored Tech (+$1.35B) and Industrials (+$119M) and were net sellers of Energy (-$240M), Financials (-$197M) and Health Care (-$192M).
- Top 5 retail stocks last week: NVDA (+$756M), MU (+$521M), TSLA (+$243M), AMD (+$201M) and NOK (+$125M). Bottom 5 retail stocks: PLTR (-$113M), AMZN (-$88M), PANW (-$69M), AVGO (-$67M) and PDD (-$66M).
- In options, retail share is slightly off its highs, Figure 67. The most traded options were in the following names, echoing previous weeks: TSLA, MU, NVDA, AMD, AAPL, META, SNDK, INTC, GOOGL/GOOG and MSFT. For the most bought/sold delta and gamma names, see Retail Activity in Options. Also see Retail Investors Options Activity by Sectors.
- Futures Activity (Non Retail): Over the past week, Futures traders net bought ~$8.1B, primarily driven by net buys in ES (~$0.9B) and NQ (~$1.6B) and partially offset by net sales in RTY (~$5.6B).

Single Stock Stories with Elevated Retail Activity

Hedge Funds vs. Retail: High Short Interest Meme Stocks

- FLO ($2.3M sold last week, -2.7z, Figure 38): The stock rose by 13% on May 22 after exceeding analyst expectations for Q1 2026 (link). Retail investor activity has increased since January 2026, with net purchases about $23 million, while short interest has climbed to 14%, up 4% since the start of the year.
- PATH ($21M bought last week, 1.9z, Figure 39): The company announced the launch of its Automation Cloud on Microsoft Azure in South Korea, enabling local data residency and enterprise automation (link). Since January 2026, the stock has drawn retail investor attention, with net purchases reaching $230 million while short interest more than doubled to nearly 30% of the float.
- SLG ($1M sold last week, -0.7z, Figure 40): The stock rose 10% over the past week amid growing reader interest. Since December 2025, retail interest has also increased, with net purchases totaling $22 million, while short interest climbed 5% to 15% of the float.

Macro & Fundamental Stories:

- Quantum computing stocks surged +15–65% from May 20 to May 22 following reports that the U.S. Department of Commerce would deploy $2B across nine quantum-related companies and take minority, non-controlling equity stakes as part of the awards. IBM is set to receive $1B (with the company also committing a matching $1B) for Anderon, what is expected to be the first pure-play quantum foundry in the US, followed by GlobalFoundries at $375M. The remaining awards were reported at $100M each for several quantum players (including D-Wave, Rigetti, and Infleqtion, alongside private companies such as Atom Computing, PsiQuantum, and Quantinuum), with Diraq reported at $38M. Retail participation was elevated across the broader “quantum” complex: IBM ($33M bought on 5/21, 4.5z, Figure 51), GFS ($13M bought on 5/21, 10.6z, Figure 53), IONQ ($4M sold on 5/21, -0.9z, Figure 55), QUBT ($1M bought on 5/21, -0.1z, Figure 57), ARQQ ($0.4M bought on 5/21, 1.1z, Figure 59), QBTS ($0.5M bought on 5/21, -0.1z, Figure 61), RGTI ($4M bought on 5/21, 0.3z, Figure 63), and INFQ ($6M bought on 5/21, 2.3z, Figure 65). Of note, J.P. Morgan recently hosted its TMC Conference a few days before the announcement, at which IBM, GlobalFoundries and IonQ presented. For key takeaways, please see here, here, and here.

Analyst Certification: The Research Analyst(s) denoted by an "AC" on the cover of this report certifies (or, where multiple Research Analysts are primarily responsible for this report, the Research Analyst denoted by an "AC" on the cover or within the document individually certifies, with respect to each security or issuer that the Research Analyst covers in this research) that: (1) all of the views expressed in this report accurately reflect the Research Analyst's personal views about any and all of the subject securities or issuers; and (2) no part of any of the Research Analyst's compensation was, is, or will be directly or indirectly related to the specific recommendations or views expressed by the Research Analyst(s) in this report. For all Korea-based Research Analysts listed on the front cover, if applicable, they also certify, as per KOFIA requirements, that the Research Analyst's analysis was made in good faith and that the views reflect the Research Analyst's own opinion, without undue influence or intervention.

All authors named within this report are Research Analysts who produce independent research unless otherwise specified. In Europe, Sector Specialists (Sales and Trading) may be shown on this report as contacts but are not authors of the report or part of the Research Department.

Important Disclosures

Company-Specific Disclosures: J.P. Morgan does and seeks to do business with companies covered in its research reports. As a result, investors should be aware that the firm may have a conflict of interest that could affect the objectivity of this report. Investors should consider this report as only a single factor in making their investment decision. Important disclosures, including price charts and credit opinion history tables (if applicable), are available for compendium reports and all J.P. Morgan-covered companies, and certain non-covered companies, by visiting <https://www.jpmm.com/research/disclosures>, calling 1-800-477-0406, or e-mailing research.disclosure.inquiries@jpmorgan.com with your request.

Explanation of Equity Research Ratings, Designations and Analyst(s) Coverage Universe:

J.P. Morgan uses the following rating system: Overweight (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will outperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst's, or the Research Analyst's team's, coverage universe); Neutral (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will perform in line with the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst's, or the Research Analyst's team's, coverage universe); and Underweight (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will underperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst's, or the Research Analyst's team's, coverage universe. NR is Not Rated. In this case, J.P. Morgan has removed the rating and, if applicable, the price target, for this stock because of either a lack of a sufficient fundamental basis or for legal, regulatory or policy reasons. The previous rating and, if applicable, the price target, no longer should be relied upon. An NR designation is not a recommendation or a rating. Some stocks under coverage have a rating but no price target; in these cases, we expect the stock will outperform/perform in line/underperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst's, or the Research Analyst's team's, coverage universe of the relevant duration of the region. In our Asia (ex-Australia and ex-India) and U.K. small- and mid-cap Equity Research, each stock's expected total return is compared to the expected total return of a benchmark country market index, not to those Research Analysts' coverage universe. If it does not appear in the Important Disclosures section of this report, the certifying Research Analyst's coverage universe can be found on J.P. Morgan's Research website, <https://>.

J.P. Morgan Equity Research Ratings Distribution, as of April 04, 2026

	Overweight (buy)	Neutral (hold)	Underweight (sell)
J.P. Morgan Global Equity Research Coverage*	51%	37%	12%
IB clients	83%	79%	74%
JPMS Equity Research Coverage*	49%	39%	13%
IB clients	94%	93%	85%

*Please note that the percentages may not add to 100% because of rounding.

Percentage of subject companies within each of the "buy," "hold" and "sell" categories for which J.P. Morgan has provided investment banking services within the previous 12 months.

For purposes of FINRA ratings distribution rules only, our Overweight rating falls into a buy rating category; our Neutral rating falls into a hold rating category; and our Underweight rating falls into a sell rating category. Please note that stocks with an NR designation are not included in the table above. This information is current as of the end of the most recent calendar quarter.
