

Japan SMID Monitor: CY2026 AGM season takeaways

In this month's edition of the Japan SMID Monitor, we focus on the 2026 AGM season trends within Japan SMID universe versus the larger cap space. One conclusion is that Japan SMID stocks currently appear to be under slightly more shareholder pressure versus their larger cap peers. Just over 15% of Japan SMIDs have CEO approval ratings below 80% (Exhibit 7), compared with less than 10% for companies with 6M ADTV over US$20mn. However, in terms of overall average approval rating changes over time (Exhibit 5) and inter-quartile ranges (Exhibit 6), there appears to be very little difference between the two data-sets. Historically, CEO approval IQRs were significantly higher with Japan SMID stocks (Exhibit 6), but this difference largely disappeared in CY2026. After peaking in CY2024 at over 11% (versus just 7% for the more liquid universe), the SMID CEO approval IQR fell 2ppts to 9% by CY2026, while the more liquid universe's CEO Approval IQR has risen 2ppts to the same 9% level.

- Tech Hardware, Industrials and Inbound Tourism out-performed IT Services in GS Japan coverage universe: The best-performing SMID names in June covered by GS Japan analysts included Taiyo Yuden (+37% mom), Japan Material (+25% mom), Kyoritsu Maintenance (+21% mom) and Kotobuki Spirits (+19% mom). The two worst-performers were ANYCOLOR (-22% mom), and Cover Corp (-14%).
- Japan SMID thematic and sub-sector index data showed that Financials led in June while Software lagged: The best-performing indices last month were Regional Banks (+17% mom) and Banks (+11% mom), while the worst-performers included SAAS (-13% mom) and Software (-9% mom).
- GS Japan SMID team remain bullish on the Japan Shipbuilding sector: GS Japan SMID analyst Norihiro Miyazaki published a sector update on the Japan Shipbuilding sector (LINK). Japan's May 2026 order backlog was a very healthy 29.3mn GT (vessel demand for the next 3-4 years), and media reports also suggest that the US Navy may start to procure ships from US and South Korean shipyards. If confirmed, this would be a very positive catalyst for this sector in Japan.
- Individuals net bought TSE Growth and TSE Standard, whilst foreigners net sold both: As can be seen in Exhibit 1 and Exhibit 2 below, for the month of June, individuals net bought ¥11.4bn and ¥84.3bn of Standard cash equities and Growth cash, whilst foreigners net sold -¥13.9bn and -¥63.4bn, respectively.

Appendix One - Methodology

Our SMID Market Monitor product focuses on sector and thematic performance of the small to mid cap portion of the Japanese equities market. This is defined as any Japanese stocks that trade over US$5mn ADTV and a market cap between ¥50-500bn. By our calculations, there are currently 231 stocks in Japan that satisfy this criteria.

We have sub-divided this universe into 42 equal weighted indices that focus on either MSCI-defined sector and sub-sectors, or areas of thematic focus that stretch across multiple sectors (such as High Dividend Yield or Entertainment). For these thematic indices, we have relied either on quantitative measures and/or GS Equity analyst input on component selection. We hope to expand the number of indices over time and would welcome client feedback on any areas of thematic interest we should focus on.

We track the performance of the equal-weighted sector, sub-sector and thematic indices over time and also measure the spread between the best-performing and the worst-performing stocks within the index. For example, Exhibit 11 illustrates both the volatility of the mean weekly performance in the SMID Banks index (the dark blue line), as well as the relatively large weekly Best-Worst spreads within the index (the light blue cloud).

Exhibit 11: Banks index 52-week equal-weighted cumulative weekly performance and best-worst spreads

Source: FactSet, Data compiled by Goldman Sachs Global Investment Research

The criteria we have used in our analysis of the liquid Japanese equities market can be summarized as follows:

- Total universe consists of Japanese stocks with a 6-month ADTV of over US$5mn and with a market cap of ¥50-500bn (currently 231 stocks).
- The universe will be refreshed every 6 months.
- Indices are all equal-weighted.
- Index component selection is based on MSCI sector and sub-sector definitions, quantitative factors and/or GS single-stock Equity Analyst guidance.
- The same stock can appear in multiple indices.
- The Best-Worst spread is based on the difference between the best performing and worst performing component within each index.
- The first 6 months of trading of any new listing are not included in the index performance.
- Japanese stocks on the JPX Securities Under Supervision & Securities to be Delisted list are excluded from the universe

We anticipate that the number of indices will be adjusted over time and would welcome any client feedback on other areas within the liquid Japan equities universe we should be focused on.
