Disclosure Appendix	61

Our Capex Tracker has seen sizable upgrades in medium-term forecasts (2026E capex forecasts c.2pp up since our last update in March), pointing to a robust investment environment driven primarily by the technology and utilities sectors.

Through our bottom-up analysis capturing €3.4tn of capex across approximately 4,000 companies and 34 different end and sub-end markets, we expect 2026 capex to end well above historical trend growth (c.13% vs historical median of c.2%), while 2027 figures are also increasing (now at 12% vs 8% at the start of the year). We continue to see a highly favorable capex environment in the medium term in Tech, particularly in Datacenters (Buy on Schneider (on CL)) and Semiconductors (Buy VAT), as well as Utilities, specifically in power grids (Buy on Prysmian and Nexans).

In this update, we observe robust and positive moves wherein Capex CAGR growth across 2025-29E at c.9%, led by Datacenters at c.35% (a 6.5 pp increase in May-26 vs. Mar-26), Semiconductors at 23% (a +6.8 pp delta), and Oil and Gas at c.4% (a+3.5pp delta). Conversely, the most significant downgrades and cuts in medium-term capex expectations have occurred in sectors such as Chemicals, which saw a decline of -4.1 pp, and Construction Equipment, which fell by -4.0 pp. In absolute terms, Airports is projected to experience a negative absolute CAGR of -4% over the 2025-29E period.

We also highlight an increasing concentration of growth in a few structural areas related to Datacenters, Semis and Utilities, which represent c.39% of total capex in 2026E, compared to only 22% just four years ago in 2022. While these structural growth areas continue to anchor the aggregate outlook, we remain mindful of cyclical variations across other end markets. Specifically, in sectors like Telecom and Consumer, key investment indicators (such as capex-to-sales and capacity utilization) are currently running below their historical medians, signaling potential cyclical headwinds compared to the structural strength seen in tech and utilities.

GS Capex Tracker by End Market

A reminder of what our Capex Tracker offers...

CAPEX TRACKER (for full details, please see our deep dive in GS Capex Tracker: Light at the end of the capex tunnel, October 30, 2017).

- We conduct bottom-up analysis of capex expectations for c.4k companies across 34 end markets (including sub sectors) – c.60% of our multi-industry coverage top line (ex-construction tracker).
- Our analysis covers €3.4 tn of capex in 2026E.
- We look at the fundamentals of investment by end market: Physical need (capacity utilization, age of equipment, replacement demand); availability of funds to finance investment internally and externally (leverage, cash generation).
- We conduct in-depth analysis of the nuances in each end market (e.g., technology shifts, regional trends, regulatory drivers), near-term developments and company read-across (including top-line correlation).
- We adjust the capex trackers by accounting for the biases in capex estimates by consensus observed over the past c.20 years. We achieve this by looking at how estimates changed with respect to the actual reported numbers throughout the year in up, down and through cycles. We then apply the adjustment factor to the current capex estimates to arrive at the adjusted capex tracker.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Quantum

Quantum is Goldman Sachs' proprietary database providing access to detailed financial statement histories, forecasts and ratios. It can be used for in-depth analysis of a single company, or to make comparisons between companies in different sectors and markets.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock’s total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region’s Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts’ investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs’ involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs

Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
