Medium-term plan Dash35 and long-term plan Vision 2035 announced; profit targets clear market expectations

Yaskawa Electric revealed its four-year medium-term plan Dash35 (LINK-J、LINK-E), which runs from FY2/27 to FY2/30, and its 10-year long-term vision through FY2/36 (LINK-J、LINK-E) after the May 22 close. In Dash35, which sets operating profits and operating margin as its most important Key Goal Indicators (KGIs), Yaskawa targets operating profits of ¥100 bn and an OPM of 15.4% in FY2/30, based on forex assumptions of ¥145/USD and ¥170/EUR. It also sets interim FY2/28 targets of ¥72 bn and 12.0%, respectively. Based on the company's stated FY2/27 forex sensitivity, current spot rates would add around ¥5 bn-¥6 bn to the above operating profit targets. The I/B/E/S consensus operating profit estimate for FY2/28 is ¥75.4 bn, so we view the outlook as broadly in line with market expectations. There are few market estimates for FY2/30, but we estimate expectations to be around ¥90 bn, given that the FY2/29 I/B/E/S consensus is ¥82.5 bn and that the majority consensus view appears to be for c.10% profit growth. We think the ¥100 bn target is likely to be above market expectations. However, we believe investors would take into account Yaskawa's track record of setting aggressive medium-term plan targets. Therefore, the feasibility of targets are likely to see investor questions at the management briefing scheduled for June 1.

FY2/36 OPM of 20% above expectations; views on FY2/30 segment profit margins likely to be mixed (conservative/optimistic)

We have a positive impression of the OPM target of 20% or more being positioned as the most important KGI toward FY2/36. We believe this level requires further reform of the business structure, and we look for the implementation of initiatives to achieve it. At the same time, our initial impression of FY2/30 medium-term OPM targets, especially segment OPMs, is that the MC target looks conservative, while the robot target appears optimistic.

For the MC business, Yaskawa has set OPM targets of 17.3% for FY2/30 and 16.2% for FY2/28, but these are margin levels that have been achieved multiple times in the past. Given the current buoyant business environment, we believe these can be achieved as early as FY2/27. We view the targets as conservative. Given the highly cyclical nature of the MC business, these numerical targets appear to be a firm commitment that management intends to achieve even under adverse conditions.

Conversely, the robot business target appears optimistic. The FY2/28 OPM target of 10.4% looks achievable given potential cost reductions, and is in line with our expectations. However, the FY2/30 OPM target of 15.5% looks optimistic, considering that the business's historical peak OPMs at 13.7% in 4Q2/23, and 11.7% for a full year (FY2/23). The company cites increased added value from AI robotics, but the viability of the path to achieving this remains to be seen.

As in prior periods, we expect the MC business to outperform and the robot business to underperform targets, resulting in broader achievement of the medium-term plan target. We expect the operating profit target of ¥100 bn to be achieved ahead of schedule in FY2/29, driven by an acceleration in semiconductor- and AI-related demand from FY2/27, and the MC business to achieve an OPM of over 20%, while OPM in the robot business remains around 11%. We intend to re-assess the company's initiatives.

FY2/30 capital efficiency/capital policy targets underwhelming, lower than previous long-term vision

The previous long-term vision, which ended in FY2/26, set return on capital targets including ROE of 15% or higher and ROIC of 15% or higher. New targets for FY2/30 ROE of 12% or higher and ROIC of 11% or higher, and 10% and 9%, respectively, for FY2/28, therefore appear lackluster. We expect earnings upside to become clear, particularly from FY2/27, and above targets to be achieved ahead of schedule. While we understand the company's growth-first stance, we would look for more extensive updates regarding its capital policy. We await further details from the management briefing on June 1.

Our view: We remain bullish

While the medium-term earnings targets fall short of our own above-consensus estimates, they remain above consensus expectations, and the long-term OPM target is a positive surprise. We would look for more details on medium-term segment trends, particularly on how the company will control costs to increase margins, as well as comments on cash flow allocation and awareness of capital costs. We expect Yaskawa to benefit substantially from the tailwind of AI capex, driven primarily by ongoing buoyancy in semiconductors, and for the company to post new record-high profits. We believe it will generate operating profits of ¥70 bn in FY2/27, close to achieving the company's FY2/28 target ahead of schedule. We reiterate our Buy rating.

Price Target Risks and Methodology - Yaskawa Electric (6506.T)

Our 12-month target price of ¥7,300 is based on the average of FY2/27E and FY2/28E EV/EBITDA, applying the sector-average multiple of 10X and a 60% sector-relative premium.

Key downside risks include (1) a slowdown in semiconductor and AI Capex related business, (2) slower-than-expected results from cost optimization measures, and (3) disappointment in the capital policy and growth strategy in the next medium-term plan and long-term vision.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs

Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
