ABF/BT Sector: GM/pricing Upcycle Underway; Buy with Higher TPs

CITI'S TAKE

Both ABF and BT substrate demand are rising on AI applications. With rising AI GPU/ASIC/CPU demand, we expect the ABF supply tightness to continue throughout 2027 with continued price hikes. For BT, we also see improving S/D status, given peers' less willingness in BT production. T glass is likely to still be a constraint throughout 2027, if new capacity ramps slower than expected. We expect substrate makers to enjoy GM expansion cycle evidenced by recent monthly earnings release. We raise TPs of NYPCB (new TP NT$1,550), Kinsus (new TP NT$1,100) and Unimicron (new TP NT$1,500) and reiterate our Buy ratings. In the short term, we prefer NYPCB and Kinsus on more aggressive pricing strategies. We open 30-day upside CWs for NYPCB and Kinsus on potential sales/GM upbeat on price hikes.

ABF substrate: tight supply evidenced by improving China UTR — Besides rapid recovery in UTR of non-China capacity, we observe UTR in China ABF capacity is improving with peers like Zhen Ding announcing further capacity expansion. To note that, China ABF capacity is the least favorable option to US customers given geopolitical risk. However, it seems US customers are adopting it given lack of choices. Meanwhile, domestic AI demand for China is also improving, competing for capacity as well. Unless there is any sign of loosening demand in China capacity, we are confident on the growth prospects of the ABF industry. We currently forecast 15-20% QoQ ABF price hike in 3Q26 considering higher willingness to pay in high season and followed by 10-15% QoQ in 4Q26 considering lower seasonality.

BT substrate: improving S/D with peers gradually cutting capacity — Our industry checks suggest some peers are showing less willingness to take BT orders or are planning to convert BT production lines into ABF lines given better profitability and visibility. This coupled with its guidance, Unimicron now targets to cut at least 15% of its total BT capacity by end-2026, likely mostly for WBCSP-related products in Taiwan plants. We think Unimicron won't fully exit BT market in the mid-term given some of its major ABF customers like Apple and few key Chinese customers still have BT demand. Thus, we think its capacity in Suzhou's BT plant might be kept operational. As per our calculation (see figure 2), Unimicron's BT sales roughly account for 11% of BT sales from global major peers. We project Unimicron to cut 40-50% of its BT capacity in the mid-term, thereby gradually transferring BT orders to other Taiwanese peers.

T glass: likely continued constraint throughout 2027 — With rising AI GPU/ASIC/CPU demand, we think T glass constraint will likely continue into 2027, given the qualification progress for new vendors seems to be slower than expected. Among all the new vendors, Taiwan Glass Industry takes the lead in thick glass, but its product quality still falls short of Nittobo's. End-customers/fabless currently are still trying to find new vendors or other kinds of new solutions, which is why EMC's ABF CCL, MGC's RS Resin solution, Nanya Plastics' T glass or other new unlisted vendors' T glass are considered yet without proven. In our view, Nittobo's capacity expansion plan remains the key to the supply, yet whether to initiate another price hike is up to Nittobo's willingness, which is addressed in our JP analyst Yuta Nishiyama's report. In our view, whether industrywide T glass supply is able to fulfill all the AI chips demand is less concerning as we think substrate makers would just hike the prices to achieve growth despite the unit shipments being constrained. We expect fabless in the queue eventually needs to pay premium for the shortage, unless there is any delay in their AI chip development.

NYPCB: aggressive ABF/BT pricing strategies — NYPCB is the key beneficiary to Broadcom's Tomahawk products for ABF. Besides switch ICs, the company would also supply some ASIC projects with minority share. For BT, the company sees strong demand from memory. NYPCB is reluctant to enter into long-term agreements with customers with high exposure to spot market. Based on the last cycle experience, we expect the company to be aggressive in both ABF and BT pricing strategies in the coming quarters. We expect price hikes and improving UTR to drive its GM profile in the coming quarters. Our 2027E profit forecast increases by ~40% to NT$33.5bn given more aggressive pricing strategies.

Kinsus: Vera CPU key suppliers + improving BT S/D — The company is bullish on its market share in Vera CPU, which echoes our view of market share >50%. The upside to its market share in Vera CPU would hinge on its capacity expansion pace. For its BT demand, we expect Kinsus to benefit from outflowing orders from Unimicron, driving its UTR quarter after quarter. We expect Kinsus' both ABF and BT UTR to reach full levels by end 2026. To note that, we think BT GM would likely surpass 20% levels in this cycle vs historical levels of 5-15% range. Kinsus currently has 35-40% BT sales exposure. We forecast more than double our 2027E profit estimate to NT$20.8bn given improvement in both ABF and BT GM.

Unimicron: more T glass supply + HDI upside — To note that, in the long term, we remain bullish on Unimicron. We understand investors' short-term preference to ABF names with higher spot-price exposure and earnings growth. However, we think Unimicron still sees meaningful earnings upside from 1) GM benefits from long-term agreements, 2) HDI GM improvement when mass production kicks off and 3) more sufficient T glass supply, which would give Unimicron more bargaining power with customers vs other ABF peers. To note that, we think current 2Q26 GM uptick is likely driven by rising ABF demand rather than by HDI UTR improvement. Our 2027E profit forecast increases by 37% to NT$77.6bn given GM expansion on more AI GPU/ASIC demand and price hikes.

GM expansion/price hikes underway; NYPCB/Kinsus preferred in the S-T — We see improving monthly profitability (see figure 1) of three Taiwanese substrate makers, which we believe is driven by enhanced product mix, rising UTR and price hikes. Given material changes to our 2027E profit estimates driven by margin expansion, we raise TPs of Unimicron/NYPCB/Kinsus to NT$1,500 (30x 2027E EPS)/ NT$1,550 (30x 2027E EPS)/ NT$1,100 (28x 2027E EPS). We believe the GM/pricing upcycle would justify the high PE multiple of ~30x for all the three companies. Reiterate our Buy ratings on three names. In the short term, we prefer NYPCB/Kinsus given aggressive pricings and improving BT sentiment. In the long term, we still like Unimicron given its leadership position.

Kinsus Interconnect Technology

Company description

Kinsus was established in 2000. It is a major supplier of substrate, with high exposure to communication (handsets and base station >50%, networking >20%). Kinsus' main manufacturing facility is in Taiwan, and the China site started contributing from 4Q10. Pegatron is the largest shareholder with a 39% holding.

Investment strategy

We rate Kinsus shares as Buy. We believe the negatives facing the company, including weak smartphone/ABF demand or ABF S/D oversupply in 2026 are already in the share price. Looking forward, with gradual recovery from smartphone/memory for BT and server/PC for ABF, we believe its profitability is on a growth trajectory. Kinsus expanded its ABF substrate business in 2023 to capture more of the opportunities like HP/AI applications, which is likely to trigger a re-rating once there is progress, especially with major AI players.

Valuation

Our DCF-based target price for Kinsus is NT$1,100. Factoring in a 4.3% risk-free rate (YTD avg. 10-year government bond), a 7% risk premium and beta of 1.38, we calculate a WACC of 13.7%. Our DCF model assumes 1.5% long-term revenue growth and a 30.8% EBIT margin in 2028E with gradual margin improvement going forward. We believe the worst demand/profitability is over given recovery demand and more disciplined supply control by the industry. Our DCF-based target price equates to 96/29X 2026/27E EPS and 12.1x/8.8x 2026/27E BVPS.

Risks

Key downside risks that could prevent the Kinsus stock from reaching our target price include: 1) weaker smartphone/smartphone demand.; 2) weaker-than-expected ABF demand momentum or market oversupply; and 3) lower-than-expected contribution from AiP.

NYP CB

Company description

Established in 1997, Nan Ya Printed Circuit Board (NYP CB) is a technology subsidiary of the Formosa Plastics Group. Nan Ya PCB's main products include conventional PCB, HDI, Flip Chip substrate (FCBGA and FCCSP), Wire Bond Substrate, etc. The company has manufacturing sites in Taiwan and Kunshan, China.

Investment strategy

We rate NYP CB shares as Buy. We believe ABF/BT should see a solid recovery in 2026 on robust AI demand: 1) NYP CB is the purest ABF play with a significant earnings turnaround, driven by growing chip sizes and layer counts for AI ASIC/networking; and 2) the BT business should benefit from price hikes on rising memory demand and T glass shortage. Considering T glass support from NYPCB's parent company, we believe NYPCB would have a better chance to win additional AI ASIC/networking business going forward.

Valuation

Our DCF-based TP for NYPCB is NT$1,550. With a risk-free rate of 4.30% (10-year government bond rate), a market risk premium of 7% and an equity beta of 1.22 (YTD weekly share price), we calculate NYPCB's WACC as 12.8%. Our TP is equivalent to 95x/30x 2026E EPS/BVPS, which reflects its high P/E multiple during upcycles. NYPCB traded at 15-20x P/E during its 2003-2008 upcycle driven by PC/NB demand strength. In 2010-11 when the market was recovering from the global financial crisis, NYPCB traded at 25-35x P/E. In the last 2019-22 upcycle when ABF was in shortage, NYPCB traded at 30-40x P/E.

Risks

Key downside risks that could prevent the NYPCB shares from reaching our target price include: 1) weaker-than-expected ABF demand from key customers; 2) BT business seasonality weakness and fewer-than-expected price hikes; and 3) severe T glass shortages that cause a bottleneck to its production.

Unimicron

Company description

Established in 1990, Unimicron is the world's No.1 PCB maker and HDI board maker. After the acquisition of PPT in late 2009, its revenue exposure to substrate has surpassed 40%, with the rest almost equally shared by conventional PCB and HDI. Unimicron has manufacturing sites in Taiwan and China (Suzhou, Kunshan, Shenzhen). UMC is the largest shareholder, with a ~13% stake.

Investment strategy

We rate Unimicron shares a Buy. Our positive view is premised on: more upside potential in the ABF segment thanks to product-mix improvements, better pricing on more complex product upgrade, and capacity expansion. Despite macro uncertainty, from a long-term perspective, we believe the tightness in ABF is unlikely to ease without much new capacity ramped aggressively in the upcoming years, and Unimicron should be the largest beneficiary with its scale in ABF. Thanks to AI GPU/ASIC demand, we now see strong growth in 2026/27E ABF consumption. We believe Unimicron could see strong revenue growth again as it did in 2019-21 from both ABF new capacity and a BT rebound.

Valuation

Our target price for Unimicron is NT$1,500. We use a 1-year forward-looking DCF-based valuation (ie, end-2027) to reflect Unimicron's ability to generate stable cash. With a risk-free rate of 4.3% (10-year government bond rate), a market risk premium of 7%, and an equity beta of 1.43 (2-year weekly share price), we calculate Unimicron's WACC as 13.9%. Our target price is equivalent to 72x/30x 2026/27E EPS, which is higher than the +1std level of consensus PE multiple of the past five years. However, as the market focuses on 2027 upcycle, we believe valuation on 2027E EPS is still in line with historical peak valuations of 25–30x during the last upcycles.

Risks

Key downside risks that could mean Unimicron shares trade below our target price include: 1) weaker-than-expected HDI business; 2) significant increase in ABF supply in the industry; and 3) stronger-than-expected margin pressure from depreciation due to higher capex investments.

Guide to Citi Research Fundamental Research Investment Ratings:

Citi Research stock recommendations include an investment rating and an optional risk rating to highlight high risk stocks.

Risk rating takes into account both price volatility and fundamental criteria. Stocks will either have no risk rating or a High risk rating assigned.

Investment Ratings: Citi Research investment ratings are Buy, Neutral and Sell. Our ratings are a function of analyst expectations of expected total return ("ETR") and risk. ETR is the sum of the forecast price appreciation (or depreciation) plus the dividend yield for a stock within the next 12 months. The target price is based on a 12 month time horizon. The Investment rating definitions are: Buy (1) ETR of 15% or more or 25% or more for High risk stocks; and Sell (3) for negative ETR. Any covered stock not assigned a Buy or a Sell is a Neutral (2). For stocks rated Neutral (2), if an analyst believes that there are insufficient valuation drivers and/or investment catalysts to derive a positive or negative investment view, they may elect with the approval of Citi Research management not to assign a target price and, thus, not derive an ETR. Citi Research may suspend its rating and target price and assign "Rating Suspended" status for regulatory and/or internal policy reasons. Citi Research may also suspend its rating and target price and assign "Under Review" status for other exceptional circumstances (e.g. lack of information critical to the analyst's thesis, trading suspension) affecting the company and/or trading in the company's securities. In both such situations, the rating and target price will show as "—" and "—" respectively in the rating history price chart. Prior to 11 April 2022 Citi Research assigned "Under Review" status to both situations and prior to 11 Nov 2020 only in exceptional circumstances. As soon as practically possible, the analyst will publish a note re-establishing a rating and investment thesis. Investment ratings are determined by the ranges described above at the time of initiation of coverage, a change in investment and/or risk rating, or a change in target price (subject to limited management discretion). At times, the expected total returns may fall outside of these ranges because of market price movements and/or other short-term volatility or trading patterns. Such interim deviations will be permitted but will become subject to review by Research Management. Your decision to buy or sell a security should be based upon your personal investment objectives and should be made only after evaluating the stock's expected performance and risk.

Catalyst Watch/Short Term Views ("STV") Ratings Disclosure:

Catalyst Watch and STV Upside/Downside calls: Citi Research may also include a Catalyst Watch or STV Upside or Downside call to indicate the analyst expects the share price to rise (fall) in absolute terms over a specified period of 30 or 90 days in reaction to one or more specific near-term catalysts or events impacting the company or the market. A Catalyst Watch will be published when Analyst confidence is high that an impact to share price will occur; it will be a STV when confidence level is moderate. A Catalyst Watch or STV Upside/Downside call will automatically expire at the end of the specified 30/90 day period. The Catalyst Watch will also be automatically removed if share price performance (calculated at market close) exceeds 15% against the direction of the call (unless over-ridden by the analyst). The analyst may also remove a Catalyst Watch or STV call prior to the end of the specified period in a published research note. A Catalyst Watch/STV Upside or Downside call may be different from and does not affect a stock's fundamental equity rating, which reflects a longer-term total absolute return expectation. For purposes of FINRA ratings-distribution-disclosure rules, a Catalyst Watch/STV Upside call corresponds to a buy recommendation and a Catalyst Watch/STV Downside call corresponds to a sell recommendation. Any stock not assigned to a Catalyst Watch Upside, Catalyst Watch Downside, STV Upside, or STV Downside call is considered Catalyst Watch/STV No View. For purposes of FINRA ratings distribution-disclosure rules, we correspond Catalyst Watch/STV No View to Hold in our ratings distribution table for our Catalyst Watch/STV Upside/Downside rating system. However, we reiterate that we do not consider No View to be a recommendation. For all Catalyst Watch/STV Upside/Downside calls, risk exists that the catalyst(s) and associated share-price movement will not materialize as expected.

Citi Research broadly and simultaneously disseminates its research content to the Firm's institutional and retail clients via the Firm's proprietary electronic distribution platforms (e.g., Citi Velocity and various Global Wealth platforms). As a convenience, certain, but not all, research content may be distributed through third party aggregators. Clients may receive published research reports by email, on a discretionary basis, and only after such research content has been broadly disseminated. Certain research is made available only to institutional investors to satisfy regulatory requirements. The level and types of services provided by Citi Research analysts to clients may vary depending on various factors such as the client's individual preferences as to the frequency and manner of receiving communications from analysts, the client's risk profile and investment focus and perspective (e.g. market-wide, sector specific, long term, short-term etc.), the size and scope of the overall client relationship with the Firm and legal and regulatory constraints.

Pursuant to Comissão de Valores Mobiliários Resolução 20 and ASIC Regulatory Guide 264, Citi is required to disclose whether a Citi related company or business has a commercial relationship with the subject company. Considering that Citi operates multiple businesses in more than 100 countries around the world, it is likely that Citi has a commercial relationship with the subject company.

Any decision to purchase securities mentioned in the Product must take into account existing public information on such security or any registered prospectus. Although information has been obtained from and is based upon sources that the Firm believes to be reliable, we do not guarantee its accuracy and it may be incomplete and condensed. Note, however, that the Firm has taken all reasonable steps to determine the accuracy and completeness of the disclosures made in the Important Disclosures section of the Product. The Firm's research department has received assistance from the subject company(ies) referred to in this Product including, but not limited to, discussions with management of the subject company(ies). Firm policy prohibits research analysts from sending draft research to subject companies. However, it should be presumed that the author of the Product has had discussions with the subject company to ensure factual accuracy prior to publication. Statements and views concerning ESG (environmental, social, governance) factors are typically based upon public statements made by the affected company or other public news, which the author may not have independently verified. ESG factors are one consideration that investors may choose to examine when making investment decisions. All opinions, projections and estimates constitute the judgment of the author as of the date of the Product and these, plus any other information contained in the Product, are subject to change without notice. Prices and availability of financial instruments also are subject to change without notice. Notwithstanding other departments within the Firm advising the companies discussed in this Product, information obtained in such role is not used in the preparation of the Product. Although Citi Research does not set a predetermined frequency for publication, if the Product is a fundamental equity or credit research report, it is the intention of Citi Research to provide research coverage of the covered issuers, including in response to news affecting the issuer. For non-fundamental research reports, Citi Research may not provide regular updates to the views, recommendations and facts included in the reports. Notwithstanding that Citi Research maintains coverage on, makes recommendations concerning or discusses issuers, Citi Research may be periodically restricted from referencing certain issuers due to legal or policy reasons. Where a component of a published trade idea is subject to a restriction, the trade idea will be removed from any list of open trade ideas included in the Product. Upon the lifting of the restriction, the trade idea will either be re-instated in the open trade ideas list if the analyst continues to support it or it will be officially closed. Citi Research may provide different research products and services to different classes of customers (for example, based upon long-term or short-term investment horizons) that may lead to differing conclusions or recommendations that could impact the price of a security contrary to the recommendations in the alternative research product, provided that each is consistent with the rating system for each respective product.

Investing in non-U.S. securities, including ADRs, may entail certain risks. The securities of non-U.S. issuers may not be registered with, nor be subject to the reporting requirements of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. There may be limited information available on foreign securities. Foreign companies are generally not subject to uniform audit and reporting standards, practices and requirements comparable to those in the U.S. Securities of some foreign companies may be less liquid and their prices more volatile than securities of comparable U.S. companies. In addition, exchange rate movements may have an adverse effect on the value of an investment in a foreign stock and its corresponding dividend payment for U.S. investors. Net dividends to ADR investors are estimated, using withholding tax rates conventions, deemed accurate, but investors are urged to consult their tax advisor for exact dividend computations. Investors who have received the Product from the Firm may be prohibited in certain states or other jurisdictions from purchasing securities mentioned in the Product from the Firm. The Product is not to be construed as providing investment services in any jurisdiction where the provision of such services would not be permitted.

Subject to the nature and contents of the Product, the investments described therein are subject to fluctuations in price and/or value and investors may get back less than originally invested. Certain high-volatility investments can be subject to sudden and large falls in value that could equal or exceed the amount invested. The yield and average life of CMOs (collateralized mortgage obligations) referenced in this Product will fluctuate depending on the actual rate at which mortgage holders prepay the mortgages underlying the CMO and changes in current interest rates. Any government agency backing of the CMO applies only to the face value of the CMO and not to any premium paid. Certain investments contained in the Product may have tax implications for private customers whereby levels and basis of taxation may be subject to change. If in doubt, investors should seek advice from a tax adviser. The Product does not purport to identify the nature of the specific market or other risks associated with a particular transaction. Advice in the Product is general and should not be construed as personal advice given it has been prepared without taking account of the objectives, financial situation or needs of any particular investor. Accordingly, investors should, before acting on the advice, consider the appropriateness of the advice, having regard to their objectives, financial situation and needs. Prior to acquiring any financial product, it is the client's responsibility to obtain the relevant offer document for the product and consider it before making a decision as to whether to purchase the product.
