

Ferrari NV (RACE.MI): 2Q26 sees beat on lower volumes; guidance raised with room for further upgrades down the line; Our Buy thesis is in Ferrari reported 2Q26 today (30th of July). We believe Ferrari 2026 consensus EPS to likely see mid-single-digit upgrades in the near term as new guidance is above current consensus, and in our view there is room for another raise in 3Q. We remain Buy rated.

2Q sees beat driven by outperformance in personalisation: Ferrari reported 2Q adj. EBIT 6.3% ahead of Visible Alpha Consensus Data (€569mn, GSe €590mn), with the quarter benefiting from strong price mix €122mn (GSe €82mn). Volumes came in -1.9% below cons at 3.37k (cons 3.43k, GSe 3.40k). Despite lower volumes, overall revenues benefited from a richer model mix and personalisation rates (20% vs mid-term guide of 18%), which led to a beat on revenues 4.3% above cons (€1.86bn) and in-line with GSe €1.90bn. Ferrari confirmed that its orderbook now covers the full of 2027. Special series mix for 2Q came in slightly below our estimates

Industrial FCF miss driven by inventory increase and lower D&A: Ferrari missed consensus ind. FCF expectations by -1.9%, which can largely be explained by negative working capital and provisions. Capex came in slightly below at -€236mn than we had anticipated (GSe -€247mn). Cash R&D was €267mn (GSe €255mn) with a capitalization ratio of c.45.7% (GSe 43%), leading to a slightly better P&L net benefit of €49mn (GSe €30mn).

2026 guidance upgrade with room for further upgrades: Ferrari upgraded its guidance for FY26 now expecting revenues of €7.60bn (previously ~€7.5bn, cons €7.55bn, GSe €7.84bn), adj. EBIT of >=€2.26bn (prev. >=€2.22bn, cons €2.25bn, GSe €2.32bn) and ind. FCF >=€1.55bn (prev. >=€1.5bn, cons €1.61bn, GSe €1.73mn). We continue to see room for Ferrari to upgrade its guidance again in 3Q26 as we expect mix to continue to accelerate towards 2H26, supported by the ramp-up of the F80 supercar and the 296 Versione Speciale with personalisations remaining strong. We note that the upgraded guidance now implies a revenue growth rate of FY26-30 CAGR above the 5% guidance from CMD, thereby likely increasing investor confidence that the 5% CAGR target acts as a growth floor rather than a target.

Key questions for the call: 1) What explains the recent strong bounce-back in Luxury Residual Values particularly in the UK and Germany? 2) Outside of the UK, has the company taken any action in other markets to address declining residual values? 3) What volumes of the F80/499P were shipped in 2Q? 4) What was the personalisation rate in 2Q26, and what drove this positive development despite management expectations of lower uptake?

Valuation & Key Risks

We are Buy-rated on Ferrari. We value Ferrari using a P/E approach and a target multiple of 35x, which we apply to our 2027E EPS of €10.92 to derive our 12-month price targets of €381/$442.

Key downside risks include: 1) Material deterioration in car residual values challenges Ferrari's brand equity and orderbook 2) Ferrari's hybrid and BEVs are less well-received in the market than ICE product, reducing orderbook 3) Saturation of key markets prevents Ferrari from raising prices for successor models 4) Underestimating capex requirements for product innovation in outer years 5) Disruption to the supply chain or global trade inhibits Ferrari from shipping new products.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.
