Credibility, Intervention & Liquidation

Scores on the Doors: oil 45.7%, intl stocks 8.7%, SPX 8.6%, cash 2.1%, US$ 1.6%, HY bonds 1.2%, IG bonds -1.2%, govt bonds -2.5%, gold -5.5%, bitcoin -26.1% YTD.

The Price is Right: credibility event...Fed nakedly dovish, so financial conditions to continue to tighten until Fed forced to restore credibility via aggressive hikes (= higher yields into Warsh @ Jackson Hole Aug 28th); we say retreat/rotate from risk assets rather than reload until higher inflation and one of those nasty "higher yields-lower dollar" vigilante events (Chart 5) forces monetary & fiscal policy U-turns.

Tale of the Tape: intervention event...US/Japan/Korea coordinated FX intervention most imp event of week as policy makers try to short-circuit risk of JPY collapse, JGB yield melt-up, contagion into Korea/Taiwan bonds, disorderly UST-negative capital flows...better work; also shows new era of AI PKOs (price keeping operations)...US policymakers will act to prevent weakness in Japan/Korea/Taiwan stocks from impeding race with China for AI supremacy.

The Biggest Picture: liquidation events...KOSDAQ (Korea small cap tech) @ Oct'22 lows (Chart 2), Mirae (largest Korea broker) -66% @ Jul'07 levels (Chart 3), stock price of many US retail darlings under water (e.g., SPCX 30%, NASA 36%, DRNZ 20%, DRAM 10% below VWAP average investor entry point YTD), plus Situational Awareness; no big rally on lovey-dovey Fed + AI PKOs + liquidation...risk assets capped into mid-terms.

BofA GLOBAL RESEARCH

Weekly Flows: $63.7bn to stocks, $12.5bn to bonds, $5.0bn to cash, $1.3bn to gold, $0.4bn from crypto.

Flows to Know:

- IG bonds: $5.8bn inflow, 17th week of inflows,
- Global equities: $63.7bn inflow, fearless buy-the-dip continues,
- US equities: $30.4bn inflow, largest in 6 weeks,
- China equities: $15.9bn inflow, largest 4-week inflow ever ($62.4bn – Chart 6),
- Korea equities: $1.6bn inflow, pace slowing but no day of Korea outflow in past week (Chart 7),
- Tech: $15.7bn inflow, largest 5-week inflow ever ($68.5bn – Chart 8),
- Semiconductor ETFs<sup>1</sup>: $5.3bn inflow, no reversal in big $53bn inflow YTD despite SOX -25% (Chart 9),
- Consumer: $0.6bn inflow, largest in 9 weeks.

BofA Private Clients: $4.5tn AUM...65.5% stocks, 17.5% bonds, 9.7% cash; private clients continue to add to stocks... equity ETF share count up 6.1% YTD, 0.6% past 4 weeks, and 0.3% in past week; in ETFs past 4 weeks, private clients buying municipal bonds, Japan equity, EM debt ETFs, selling low-volatility, bank loan, precious metal ETFs.

BofA Bull & Bear Indicator: down to 9.4 from 9.6 on EM debt outflows; extreme bull market positioning remains headwind for risk assets, as has been case since BofA Bull & Bear Indicator "sell signal" triggered May 26th (since when a lot of rotation and a little retreat...healthcare up 9%, banks 8% vs. ACWI -3%, MAGS -8%, SOX -11%, oil -11%, bitcoin -15%); "old" Bull & Bear Indicator at 7.4 (see BofA Bull & Bear Indicator).

On Portfolios:

- We recommend investors retreat from risk assets and/or rotate into some defensives (e.g. staples), duration (e.g. REITs, small cap, biotech) and US dollar, all protected from ongoing tightening of financial conditions, less cyclically vulnerable than banks, industrials, semis to bull consensus "no macro landing, no Fed hike, no AI capex cut, no DEM midterm sweep" disappointment.
- This week's combo of coordinated FX policy intervention & market liquidation normally bullish "end of deleveraging" events (note XBD & NYA bounce back to high), but policymakers fine-tuning (trying to cap) government bond yields rather than adopting monetary shock therapy (Fed & BoJ hikes) to reverse inflation risks and lower bond yields & cost of capital (why MAGS can't break out to new highs).
- Policymakers continue to corroborate asset allocation view that equity market is "too big to fail" as economy dependent on wealth effect and AI capex; political leaders continue to struggle for popularity (Trump approval ratings falling again – Chart 4) so keeping upward pressure on government spending until higher inflation and one of those nasty "higher yields-lower dollar" vigilante events (Chart 5) forces fiscal policy U-turn; only then will asset allocation to bonds rise.

BofA GLOBAL RESEARCH

Disclaimer: The indicators identified above as the BofA Bull & Bear Indicator, MVP Model, BofA Global Breadth Rule, BofA EM Flow Trading Rule, BofA Global Flow Trading Rule, BofA Global FMS Macro Indicator, BofA Global FMS Cash Rule, Global Wave, Sell-Side Indicator, and Global Financial Stress Indicator are intended to be indicative metrics only and may not be used for reference purposes or as a measure of performance for any financial instrument or contract, or otherwise relied upon by third parties for any other purpose, without the prior written consent of BofA Global Research. These indicators were not created to act as a benchmark.

The analysis of the BofA Bull & Bear Indicator in this report is back-tested and does not represent the actual performance of any account or fund. Back-tested performance depicts the hypothetical back-tested performance of a particular strategy over the time period indicated. In future periods, market and economic conditions will differ and the same strategy will not necessarily produce the same results. No representation is being made that any actual portfolio is likely to have achieved returns similar to those shown herein. In fact, there are frequently sharp differences between back-tested returns and the actual results realized in the actual management of a portfolio. Back-tested performance results are created by applying an investment strategy or methodology to historical data and attempts to give an indication as to how a strategy might have performed during a certain period in the past if the product had been in existence during such time. Back-tested results have inherent limitations including the fact that they are calculated with the full benefit of hindsight, which allows the security selection methodology to be adjusted to maximize the returns. Further, the results shown do not reflect actual trading or the impact that material economic and market factors might have had on a portfolio manager's decision-making under actual circumstances. Back-tested returns do not reflect advisory fees, trading costs, or other fees or expenses.
