

Texas Instruments Inc. (TXN): Strong results and guidance suggests continued momentum in the analog recovery

Key stock takeaways: We expect the stock to be range bound following a quarter and guidance that came in above the Street. We believe expectations were somewhat elevated given management's intra-quarter commentary on a fundamental recovery and the stock's outperformance over the past quarter, and based on our conversations we believe results were consistent with these expectations. We see the strong recovery in the industrial end market, as well as the beginning of broadening automotive demand improvement, as a particularly encouraging read-across for the sector. Although we continue to see a recovery across the analog sector (including for TI), we believe peers have managed their inventory levels more proactively — and hence we believe gross margins are likely to recover faster for peers (along with significant upward earnings revisions) than for TI. We continue to have a preference for peers (including Microchip and NXP) who are likely to see greater upward earnings revisions in the near term, and we retain our relative Sell rating on TXN given the ongoing gross margin headwinds we expect in the coming quarters.

Read-through to our coverage: We expect a positive initial reaction for the analog group, with the most direct read-across for NXPI (Buy), ON (Neutral), and ADI (Buy) given their relatively high automotive exposures following the incrementally positive commentary around this end market.

Quarterly revenue and EPS are above the Street: TI reported 2Q26 revenue of $5.46 bn, above GS at $5.38 bn and the Street (Visible Alpha) at $5.26 bn. Gross margin of 61.4% was well above GS at 59.4% and the Street at 59.5%. Operating margin of 42.3% was well above GS at 40.9% and the Street at 40.5%. EPS of $2.14 was above GS at $1.99 and the Street at $1.94.

- End market trends: TI's 1Q26 industrial revenue increase of about 10% QoQ was ahead of our expectations – and the company's 3Q revenue guidance of up ~8% QoQ (at the midpoint) suggests a continued cyclical recovery across the supply chain. The company noted that it continues to see the market continuing to improve, with demand broadening to areas such as automotive. Automotive was up in the high-single digits QoQ, personal electronics was up high-single digits QoQ, communications equipment was up QoQ, and datacenter revenue was up 20% QoQ in 2Q.
- Inventory levels: Inventory on the balance sheet was lower (down ~$90mn) on a sequential basis to $4.6bn and inventory days ticked 13 days lower to 196, which Goldman Sachs does and seeks to do business with companies covered in its research reports. As a result, investors should be aware that the firm may have a conflict of interest that could affect the objectivity of this report. Investors should consider this report as only a single factor in making their investment decision. For Reg AC certification and other important disclosures, see the Disclosure Appendix, or go to www.gs.com/research/hedge.html. Analysts employed by non-US affiliates are not registered/qualified as research analysts with FINRA in the U.S.

we view as encouraging. Management intends to manage its factory loadings dynamically in order to manage internal inventory levels according to customer demand. Although we see this trend as a positive for the company's gross margins over time, we expect TI's gross margin expansion to lag peers as the recovery continues.

- Margins: TI's implied 2Q gross margin guidance is for gradual expansion QoQ as the company manages its factory loadings to end demand, which implies gross margins up by ~100bp in 3Q (we model for 3Q26 GM of 62.4% vs. 61.4% in 2Q26)—and we expect this trend to largely continue over the course of 2026.

3Q revenue and EPS guidance are above the Street. TI guided 3Q above the Street on revenue and EPS. Revenue was guided to $5.90 bn at the midpoint, which is above GS at $5.65 bn and the Street at $5.63 bn. OpEx is expected to be roughly flat QoQ in 3Q. TI's tax rate is expected to be ~13%. EPS guidance of $2.40 at the midpoint is well above both GS at $2.14 and the Street at $2.18.

Estimate changes. We increase our 2025-2027 EPS estimates by an average of 9% to mainly reflect higher revenue and gross margins than we had previously modeled (see detailed estimates below — Exhibit 3).

Price target. We raise our 12-month price target to $225 (from $200 previously) is based on a 25X P/E multiple (unchanged) applied to our normalized EPS estimate of $9.00 (from $8.00 previously on higher estimates). Key upside risks: 1) upside to end-demand across key verticals; 2) a reversal in market share dynamics; 3) better-than-expected gross margin performance and/or OpEx leverage.

We are Sell rated on TXN. Our Sell rating on TXN is driven by our view that its margin expansion is likely to under-run peers (such as Microchip and NXP) during the ongoing analog recovery given TI's significantly higher inventory levels.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
