The y/y increase in penetration of Smartphone spend on U.S. sites corresponded with reported increase in preference from our Online Checkout Survey

Preferred Digital Spend Medium

Source: J.P. Morgan Online Checkout Survey.

- The growth premium for global e-comm spend relative to physical retail moderated in 2025, and is expected to remain at a ~4pt premium looking ahead.
- Online checkout preference does not equal practice:
 - More than 2/3 of Americans prefer to complete an online transaction using their Smartphones; however, >55% of spend on U.S. sites takes place on Desktop.
 - We continue to see runway for mobile-native payment wallets to increase penetration.

Guest Checkout based on consumer responses in JPM Online Checkout Survey and company commentary.

- >50% of U.S. e-comm is done on desktop, but consumer preference is increasingly shifting to mobile
- PayPal Branded remains the best distributed, available at >80% of merchants surveyed.
- BNPL providers occupy premium real estate, and are best represented on the Product Page
- Klarna was among best represented BNPL providers (>25% of merchants), but Affirm (~15% of merchants) has greater share in Top 10
- Monitoring Apple– Apple in Browser was added to 10 of the Top 100 merchants over the last year
- Klarna, Afterpay also gaining traction on Mobile

Digital Wallets winning share largely at expense of card on file

Preferred payment method: Guest Checkout vs. Card on File vs. Digital Wallet

Source: J.P. Morgan Online Checkout Survey

Note: 1,486 responses, "saved credentials" include guest checkout with browser autofill, registered card on file and digital wallets.

Reason for Using Digital Wallets

- Across 3 scenarios (1st time shopping at a website, favorite website, retailer's mobile app), respondents were 75-81% likely to checkout using some form of auto-populated/saved credentials (80% avg.) and 30-39% likely to use some form of Guest Checkout (34% avg.).
- There remains room for penetration of guest checkout; recent wallet share gains appear to be coming at the expense of card on file, possibly browser (to a lesser extent)
- 43% of PayPal preferers cited familiarity as a reason for said preference (vs. 41% among tot. survey); 54% of Apple Pay preferers cited convenience/speed (vs. 45% among tot. survey); 17% of Cash App Pay preferers cited use of other product offerings (vs. 15% among tot. survey).

Note: "Cardable" PCE removes housing/utilities, health care and motor vehicle payments. 2012 card volume growth is understated due to PIN Debit market share losses by Visa. Mastercard data excludes debit transactions on Maestro and Cirrus-branded cards, Mondex transactions and transactions involving brands other than Mastercard. 2026-27 PCE growth based on J.P. Morgan Economic Research estimates as of April 2026.

Bank Card Volume Growth to U.S. PCE Growth Multiplier

Source: U.S. Department of Commerce and J.P. Morgan calculations.

Note: PCE = Personal Consumption Expenditure, Multiplier = Card-based purchase volume growth/ U.S. PCE Growth. 2012 Bank Card Volume Growth is JPMe assuming PIN debit share shift from Visa to Mastercard that is unreported. 2020 was the first period in tracking where PCE growth was negative while Bankcard growth was positive. 2025-26 PCE growth based on J.P. Morgan Economic Research estimates as of April 2026.

- On average, bank card penetration of "cardable" PCE expanded about ~3ppts per year. Simple math implies 5+ years of card conversion opportunity left (domestically). Longer at current rates.
- All else equal, 1ppt of penetration equates to about 130 bps of aggregate volume growth to Visa and Mastercard.
- Path to further penetration is small and large ticket. B2B and other non-carded verticals significantly expand domestic TAM.
- Global card penetration of consumption is ~15ppts below U.S.

Network Value Added Services – Mastercard Larger, Visa Growing Faster

Visa

Visa VAS Components (FY24)

28% of Visa's revenue is VAS, weighted toward Issuing/Acceptance. 41% of Mastercard's revenue is VAS, weighted toward Security and Data.

Visa VAS has grown ~4ppts faster than Mastercard (low 20% vs. MA high teens) over the last four years, with law of large numbers contributing (MA added ~$2.5B vs V ~$2.2B in CY25).

Network Tokenization: The Next Pricing Opportunity?

What Is Network Tokenization?

Tokenization replaces a payment card's account number with an alternative string of numbers called a token.

Why tokenization matters:

- (1) Significantly benefits ecosystem (see below)
- (2) Tokenization has gained material share (V/MA 30%+ transactions) growing ~30%
- (3) V/MA didn't charge directly for tokenization for 10 years – MA started in 2025, Visa started in US/EU in 2026 and we estimate will lift FY26 revenue growth by 1ppt+

Source: Company reports, industry documentation and J.P. Morgan.

Note: Mechanics can vary, including by use case; see our Tokenization Deep Dive for more detail.

Benefits of Network Tokenization

Tokenization improves security, lifts revenue and lowers costs for the ecosystem

Improved Security: Fraud rates are ~30% lower for tokenized transactions, driven by lower third-party fraud.

Higher Authorization Rates: Network-tokenized transactions have 3-6% higher authorization rates, meaning more revenue to merchants, PSPs and issuers.

Can Reduce Merchant Costs: Visa interchange is 10bps lower for tokenized transactions in some categories; merchant PCI compliance cost lowered for COF use cases.

Better Consumer Experience: "Evergreen" credentials, fast checkout.

Tokenized Transaction Growth + TAM

% of Visa Transactions Tokenized

Source: Company commentary and J.P. Morgan.

We believe V/MA tokenized transactions are growing ~30% y/y

We see a path to ~70% tokenized share of transactions, meaning penetration can double.

Includes most of ecommerce + mobile wallet (Apple Pay) share of card-present spending

Note: Assumes blanket pricing on global tokenized transactions. Assumes baseline 2024 based on 1H24 disclosures of tokenized transaction share (at company average transaction size).

Where AC Stands Today & Learnings from Ecommerce

Agentic Commerce Phases

We are here:

Phase 1 LLM Chatbot Commerce

Functionally similar to ecommerce with discovery through new channel

- Consumer remains highly engaged (limited agentic autonomy)
- Single-merchant checkout
- Simple transaction types

Phase 2 Truly Agentic Commerce

Largely new type of commerce with agents acting on behalf of consumer

- Agent makes autonomous buying decisions
- Multi-merchant checkout
- Complex, multi-part transaction types

Expect progress towards Phase 2 to be measured in years, not months

Note: LLM adoption represents an average of datapoints in each year from four different surveys: Years 1-3 cited by Stanford/Worldbank are Pew Charitable Trusts; Bick, Blandin, Deming; Hartley, Jolevski, Melo, Moore. Year 4 LLM adoption based on findings from JPM AI Adoption Survey. “Release” of internet considered to be 1995 (launch of consumer web browsers); LLM considered to be 2022 with launch of ChatGPT.

Adoption Hurdles Exist on Both the Consumer and Merchant Side

Consumer Adoption Hurdles

Consumer Commercial Intent is Low Today

Agentic Commerce commercial intent is closer to (and still below) Social Commerce adoption than Traditional Search

In Consumer Payments, Trust is Earned, Not Given

We expect consumers to be hesitant to provide sensitive bank account and card information to an LLM, at least initially

JPM AI Adoption Survey Commercial Usage by Platform

Source: J.P. Morgan 2026 AI Adoption Survey

N=2,524, multi-select

Note: respondents were asked "in the last 3 months, which platforms have you used to purchase an item?"

Merchant Adoption Hurdles

AC Risks Disintermediating Consumer/Merchant Relationship

Merchant connection moves from a human to an agent, potentially erasing hard-earned brand loyalty and goodwill

Potential for Margin Compression if/when Agents Optimize for Price

Potentially drives merchant competition more towards price and away from brand identity

Checkout Conversion via LLM is Lower than Traditional Ecomm Today

Early Case Studies Position LLMs as Discovery Tools, not a Transaction Facilitator

- OpenAI, ChatGPT prioritizing product discovery, not transaction facilitation
- Walmart pulling back from ChatGPT Instant Checkout; saw conversion rates 3x lower than direct transactions
- Shopify Agentic Storefronts allow users to discover merchants in ChatGPT; complete purchase via in-app browser, carrying over merchant customizations and pricing logic

Survey Insights on Agentic: Familiarity, comfort level among consumers is low, varies by age

Consumer Familiarity with Agentic Commerce

- Consumer awareness and interest in agentic commerce (agents making purchase on your behalf) is low, and unsurprisingly, those comfortable with agentic commerce skewed younger, and those unfamiliar with agentic commerce skewed older
- Of those surveyed, 50% were unfamiliar with agentic commerce, and only ~30% were at least somewhat comfortable with the idea of an agent making a purchase on their behalf
- Payment wallets have opportunity to leverage trust in an agentic world, with 36% wanting to fund an agentic transaction with PayPal, vs 20% for standard e-comm.

U.S. Commercial Card Spend Type (2024)

- MA/V Commercial card volume is low teens % of total US network purchase volume; AXP/MA/V collectively penetrated ~12% of the global commercial card TAM, as sized by Visa in 2023.
- AP providers want to eliminate paper checks and push higher monetized options (virtual card, enhanced ACH, etc.); suppliers conversely often prefer cheaper modalities; to grease adoption we could see AP players:
 - Improving automation/straight-thru process capabilities
 - Offering custom levels of pricing, timing, automation, and/or data attach
 - Developing Buyer-Funded models and working capital optimization solutions, including factoring

Volume Share Is Shifting Toward Software Distribution

Banks still a large player, but premium growth largely centralized under the tech-enabled model

Source: Company reports, Nilson report and J.P. Morgan estimates

Note: Reflects generalized categories, as agreements between processors, acquirers and service providers vary significantly. Integrated includes volume on marketplaces operating as a merchant of record (Amazon, eBay, etc.), or captured through an integrated POS or software (Clover, Lightspeed, Mindbody, Shopify, Square, etc.), as well as additional integrated volume aggregated at the processing entity (Braintree, Cayan, OpenEdge, Stripe Connect, Transfirst, etc.). Eliminates double counting of categories where possible, for instance Clover volume is included in Integrated and excluded from Scale Processors (Fiserv).

In 2025, Wells Fargo Lost ~3ppts of transaction share, Citi lost 6ppts; Fiserv gained 12ppts.

Since 2010, transaction share has meaningfully consolidated, with FISV, J.P. Morgan, Worldpay and GPN being large share-gainers.

Important Disclosures

Company-Specific Disclosures: J.P. Morgan does and seeks to do business with companies covered in its research reports. As a result, investors should be aware that the firm may have a conflict of interest that could affect the objectivity of this report. Investors should consider this report as only a single factor in making their investment decision. Important disclosures, including price charts and credit opinion history tables, are available for compendium reports and all J.P. Morgan–covered companies, and certain non-covered companies, by visiting <https://www.jpmm.com/research/disclosures>, calling 1-800-477-0406, or e-mailing research.disclosure.inquiries@jpmorgan.com with your request.

Explanation of Equity Research Ratings, Designations and Analyst(s) Coverage Universe:

J.P. Morgan uses the following rating system: Overweight (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will outperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe); Neutral (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will perform in line with the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe); and Underweight (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will underperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe. NR is Not Rated. In this case, J.P. Morgan has removed the rating and, if applicable, the price target, for this stock because of either a lack of a sufficient fundamental basis or for legal, regulatory or policy reasons. The previous rating and, if applicable, the price target, no longer should be relied upon. An NR designation is not a recommendation or a rating. Some stocks under coverage have a rating but no price target; in these cases, we expect the stock will outperform/perform in line/underperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe of the relevant duration of the region. In our Asia (ex-Australia and ex-India) and U.K. small- and mid-cap Equity Research, each stock’s expected total return is compared to the expected total return of a benchmark country market index, not to those Research Analysts’ coverage universe. If it does not appear in the Important Disclosures section of this report, the certifying Research Analyst’s coverage universe can be found on J.P. Morgan’s Research website, <https://www.jpmorganmarkets.com>.
