

CHINA CONSUMER DURABLES: APPLIANCE TRACKER

May 2026: Still weak domestic demand yet base will ease into June, 618 in focus; exports sequentially improved

Domestic appliances data continued to demonstrate weakness on a high base for both retail and ex-factory shipment in May: 1) NBS home appliances and electronics retail sales fell by 16% yoy, a similar pace to Apr despite a more challenging base; 2) AC domestic ex-factory shipment came in below expectations at -15% yoy (vs -9% in the previous production plan as compiled by IOL), presumably impacted by front-loaded demand in the previous year and price hikes. Going forward, we view it as likely that domestic demand growth will remain under pressure in early June due to a high base. However, base pressure may sequentially ease into late June/July as the trade-in boost started to fade from June last year. Specifically for 618, initial sales data does not look encouraging, against low market expectations. Moreover, we noted lower prices vs Singles' Day for select brands, which may indicate that brands resorted to promotion to boost demand despite rising input costs.

Appliances exports growth sequentially improved and beat IOL and market expectations in May. Overall appliances exports growth accelerated to HSD% growth in May with a lower base per customs data. The AC exports decline also narrowed and came in above previous production plan (-4% yoy in May). Consumer sentiment in the US/Europe and US housing sales data also demonstrated sequential improvements recently. Going forward, as details become available following the signing of the US-Iran Memorandum of Understanding, visibility around demand could improve, providing scope for leading Chinese players to further gain share in overseas markets, especially those with product portfolios with a strong value proposition.

On cyclical factors, shipping rates further increased in the past month. Key commodities costs stayed largely stable in the past month. Regarding stock ideas, we continue to favor Buy-rated Midea (A/H) as we see limited downside risk protected by shareholder returns and upside potential from overseas markets and emerging business. We continue to hold a constructive view on Ninebot for its growth potential from a comprehensive product line-up, including share gains in the domestic E2W market, structural growth of robotic lawn mowers and overseas E2W potential, against a near historical low valuation. We also like Hisense Home Appliances on stabilizing central AC business, sequentially recovering revenue growth/profitability off easing bases, and mid to long-term margin expansion

Ex-factory shipments showed divergence between domestic and exports

According to China Industry Online (IOL), AC total ex-factory shipments growth weakened to -11% yoy in May (vs -9% yoy in Apr), with weaker growth from domestic (-15% yoy in May vs -7% yoy in Apr) but better growth from exports (-4% yoy in May vs -12% yoy in Apr). Compared to previous production plans, domestic came lower than expected but exports came above (vs -9% and -6% yoy of previous production plan respectively). Similar to previous months, we note that overall exports by Chinese players should be greater than that indicated by IOL export data as leading companies such as Midea also export from their overseas factories.

Domestic shipment came in weaker than expected by IOL in May on a high base, consistent with continued weakness from retail sales, presumably impacted by front-loaded demand in the previous year and price hikes since Apr. Going forward, IOL revised down the growth forecast to a low-teens % decline (vs previously SD% yoy decline) for major white goods in 2Q26 on the back of weak demand.

Exports sequentially improved and came in better than expected in May. Apart from a lower base, exports showed resilience despite the Middle East conflict, likely supported by Chinese players' continued share gains. Property sales data (Exhibit 12) in DM and consumer sentiment (Exhibit 11) both showed sequential improvements in the past month. Going forward, the current production plan still indicates SD% yoy exports decline for major white goods in 2Q26 with relatively better growth from refrigerators and washing machines vs AC.

By brand, Haier and Hisense outpaced the industry in terms of total shipments growth, while Gree and Midea lagged. Haier's total AC ex-factory shipments were up by 6% yoy, underpinned by +5%/+10% domestic/exports growth. Hisense's total AC ex-factory shipments decreased by 8% yoy in May, underpinned by +3%/-17% domestic/exports growth. Midea's total AC ex-factory shipments decreased by 23% yoy in May, with a wider decline of domestic and but better exports (-35% and +4% yoy). Gree's total AC ex-factory shipments decreased by 13% yoy in May, with above-industry domestic but below-industry exports (-6% and -33% yoy).

Total ex-factory shipment volume growth for washing machines/refrigerators demonstrated improving trends in Apr.

- Washing machine total shipments growth improved to +4% yoy in Apr (vs +1% yoy in Mar). Domestic decline stayed stable at -6% yoy in Apr, but exports growth improved to +14% yoy (vs +7% yoy in Mar). By brand, both Midea and Haier came in below industry. Midea's total shipments were up by +3% yoy in Apr, with domestic/export shipments growing by -1%/+8% yoy. Haier's total shipments were flattish yoy in Apr, with domestic/exports growth of -1%/+2% yoy.
- Refrigerator total shipments growth improved to +6% yoy in Apr (vs -4% yoy in Mar). Domestic sales narrowed slightly to -4% yoy in Apr (vs -5% yoy in Mar), and exports growth turned positive to +6% yoy (vs -3% yoy in Mar). By brand, Midea and Hisense came above industry but Haier came below in Apr. Midea's total shipments grew by +25% yoy, with domestic/export shipments growing by +25%/+26% yoy. Hisense's total shipments grew by +15% yoy, with domestic/overseas shipments growth

+2%/+21% yoy. Haier's total shipments were flattish yoy, of which domestic/exports growth -24%/+36% yoy.

Total shipment value for variable refrigerant flow systems (VRF) decreased by 5% in Apr, narrowed from -8% yoy in Mar. Domestic shipment decline narrowed but export shipment growth moderated (domestic/exports -6%/+1% yoy in Apr vs -10%/+5% yoy in Mar). By brand, in domestic market growth, Midea, Gree and Hisense-Hitachi came above industry at -2%/-2%/-3% yoy, while Daikin lagged at -10% yoy. For exports, Midea and Daikin showed faster growth vs the industry average.

May ex-factory shipment data for refrigerators/washing machines/refrigerant flow systems will be released at the end of June.

Retail sales remained weak on a higher base

Retail sales growth showed a similar yoy decline in May as in Apr, despite an elevated base. NBS home appliances and electronics retail sales decreased by 16% yoy in May, a similar pace vs -15% yoy in Apr.

Product wise, while most categories continued to record yoy declines in May, electric water heaters and dishwashers relatively outperformed with positive growth in the online channel. Channel wise, more categories showed better online growth vs. offline in May, similar to previous months.

Regarding pricing, ASP growth continued to show mixed trends in May. Select small appliances such as pressure cookers and soymilk makers showed positive ASP growth in both online and offline channels, while select white goods and small appliances such as AC, washing machine and RVC exhibited ASP growth pressure yoy. Based on our AC price tracking for entry-level products, we noticed select brands including Midea, Haier and Xiaomi lowered prices vs 2025 Singles' Day, though higher than last year's 618, while Gree largely maintained their prices vs 2025 Singles' Day.

Brand-wise, leading white goods companies generally showed similar yoy declines as the industry on Tmall+Taobao in May. In cleaning appliances, Roborock relatively outperformed with a smaller decline vs. the industry on Tmall+Taobao in May, while Ecovacs was in-line with the industry. In small kitchen appliances, Morphy Richards outperformed with positive yoy growth on Tmall+Taobao in May, while Bear relatively lagged.

Overseas RVC and robotic lawn mower growth remained robust

RVC industry app downloads growth (a proxy of retail demand growth) in overseas markets accelerated to +38% yoy in May (vs +34% yoy in Apr). By region, Americas and Europe accelerated, while APAC decelerated (Americas/Europe/APAC +36%/+43%/+30% yoy in May vs +32%/+33%/+38% yoy in Apr). Roborock overseas downloads growth accelerated to +54% yoy in May (vs +47% yoy in Apr), still faster than the industry average. By region, Roborock gained share in the Americas and Europe (+10ppt/+2ppt yoy to 27%/31%), while it maintained stable share in APAC (32% in May).

Amazon US RVC sales data showed mom moderation in May (-16% yoy in May vs +6% yoy in Apr). Roborock gained share, while Eufy, iRobot, Shark and Ecovacs relatively underperformed.

Based on overseas lawn mowers app download data (tracked by Sensor Tower), robotic lawn mower demand remained solid with DD% growth and Ninebot's continued market share gains with 100%+ growth in May.

Price Target Risks and Methodology

Midea

Valuation: Our 12-m TPs (A/H-share) of Rmb99/HK$113 are based on a 16x exit multiple applied to our 2028E EPS, discounted back to 2027E using a 9.5% cost of equity.

Key risks: 1) Worse-than-expected disruption on white goods demand from weaker macro globally; 2) rising material costs affecting product margins; 3) execution risk of its premiumization strategy; and 4) rising competition in the low-to-mid-end segment.

Ninebot

Valuation: Our 12-month target price of Rmb62 is based on a 16x exit P/E multiple applied to our 2028E EPS and discounted back to 2027E using a 9.5% cost of equity.

Key risks: 1) Decline in disposable income and consumer confidence from weaker macro conditions; 2) Slower-than-expected product launches or new category expansion; 3) Intensifying competition in domestic/overseas markets; 4) Potential tariffs/anti-dumping duties may reduce profitability; 5) Higher-than-expected raw materials cost.

Hisense Home Appliances

Valuation: Our 12-m TP (A/H-share) of Rmb30/HK$27 is based on 14x/11x 2028E P/Es for Hisense-Hitachi JV/legacy white goods, discounted back to 2027E at a 9.5% COE.

Key risks: 1) Worse-than-expected disruption in white goods demand from weaker macro globally; 2) a further property market slowdown leading to sluggish demand for VRF; 3) increasing competition from domestic players that may jeopardize the leading position of its Hisense-Hitachi JV.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DAFCF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock’s total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region’s Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts’ investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.

The information, opinions, estimates and forecasts contained herein are as of the date hereof and are subject to change without prior notification. We seek to update our research as appropriate, but various regulations may prevent us from doing so. Other than certain industry reports published on a periodic basis, the large majority of reports are published at irregular intervals as appropriate in the analyst's judgment.

Goldman Sachs conducts a global full-service, integrated investment banking, investment management, and brokerage business. We have investment banking and other business relationships with a substantial percentage of the companies covered by Global Investment Research. Goldman Sachs & Co. LLC, the United States broker dealer, is a member of SIPC (<https://www.sipc.org>).

Our salespeople, traders, and other professionals may provide oral or written market commentary or trading strategies to our clients and principal trading desks that reflect opinions that are contrary to the opinions expressed in this research. Our asset management area, principal trading desks and investing businesses may make investment decisions that are inconsistent with the recommendations or views expressed in this research.

The analysts named in this report may have from time to time discussed with our clients, including Goldman Sachs salespersons and traders, or may discuss in this report, trading strategies that reference catalysts or events that may have a near-term impact on the market price of the equity securities discussed in this report, which impact may be directionally counter to the analyst's published price target expectations for such stocks. Any such trading strategies are distinct from and do not affect the analyst's fundamental equity rating for such stocks, which rating reflects a stock's return potential relative to its coverage universe as described herein.

We and our affiliates, officers, directors, and employees will from time to time have long or short positions in, act as principal in, and buy or sell, the securities or derivatives, if any, referred to in this research, unless otherwise prohibited by regulation or Goldman Sachs policy.

The views attributed to third party presenters at Goldman Sachs arranged conferences, including individuals from other parts of Goldman Sachs, do not necessarily reflect those of Global Investment Research and are not an official view of Goldman Sachs.

Any third party referenced herein, including any salespeople, traders and other professionals or members of their household, may have positions in the products mentioned that are inconsistent with the views expressed by analysts named in this report.

This research is not an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any security in any jurisdiction where such an offer or solicitation would be illegal. It does not constitute a personal recommendation or take into account the particular investment objectives, financial situations, or needs of individual clients. Clients should consider whether any advice or recommendation in this research is suitable for their particular circumstances and, if appropriate, seek professional advice, including tax advice. The price and value of investments referred to in this research and the income from them may fluctuate. Past performance is not a guide to future performance, future returns are not guaranteed, and a loss of original capital may occur. Fluctuations in exchange rates could have adverse effects on the value or price of, or income derived from, certain investments.

Certain transactions, including those involving futures, options, and other derivatives, give rise to substantial risk and are not suitable for all investors. Investors should review current options and futures disclosure documents which are available from Goldman Sachs sales representatives or at <https://www.theocc.com/about/publications/character-risks.jsp> and https://www.goldmansachs.com/disclosures/cftc_fcm_disclosures. Transaction costs may be significant in option strategies calling for multiple purchase and sales of options such as spreads. Supporting documentation will be supplied upon request.

Differing Levels of Service provided by Global Investment Research: The level and types of services provided to you by Goldman Sachs Global Investment Research may vary as compared to that provided to internal and other external clients of GS, depending on various factors including your individual preferences as to the frequency and manner of receiving communication, your risk profile and investment focus and perspective (e.g., marketwide, sector specific, long term, short term), the size and scope of your overall client relationship with GS, and legal and regulatory constraints. As an example, certain clients may request to receive notifications when research on specific securities is published, and certain clients may request that specific data underlying analysts' fundamental analysis available on our internal client websites be delivered to them electronically through data feeds or otherwise. No change to an analyst's fundamental research views (e.g., ratings, price targets, or material changes to earnings estimates for equity securities), will be communicated to any client prior to inclusion of such information in a research report broadly disseminated through electronic publication to our internal client websites or through other means, as necessary, to all clients who are entitled to receive such reports.

All research reports are disseminated and available to all clients simultaneously through electronic publication to our internal client websites. Not all research content is redistributed to our clients or available to third-party aggregators, nor is Goldman Sachs responsible for the redistribution of our research by third party aggregators. For research, models or other data related to one or more securities, markets or asset classes (including related services) that may be available to you, please contact your GS representative or go to <https://research.gs.com>.

Disclosure information is also available at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html> or from Research Compliance, 200 West Street, New York, NY 10282.
