Weekly theme: Vera memory cut, strong June, Samsung dividend, Kor conf preview

Industry Overview

Thoughts on NVIDIA Vera CPU memory capacity reduction

The street is speculating a 50% SOCAMM memory content cut for NVIDIA's new CPU, Vera, vs the original spec (new 750GB vs old 1,500GB). We believe this is not true. Our check still shows 1,500GB-centric SOCAMM (192GB x 8) as a mainstream for Vera Rubin (with HBM4) vs 750GB (96GB x 8) for Vera CPU rack (without HBM). Of course, clients (Google, Amazon, MSFT, Meta) can opt 750GB or 1,500GB for Vera Rubin superchip or Vera CPU rack. Net-net, we conclude 1) Vera Rubin should continue to use 1,500GB (750GB possible but lower performance), and 2) Vera CPU rack also should initially use 1,500GB, but it can work with 750GB too. Initial SOCAMM orders were for Vera Rubin; thus, Vera CPU rack offers incremental SOCAMM demand – positive for its TAM.

Upbeat memory sales/exports continue QTD

Korea's semis exports hit a new record high during the first 10 days of June: US$11bn, +30% MoM or +206% YoY. Key contributors should be 100%+ ASP increase YoY. We also observed a more notable DRAM spot price rally this week (DDR4/DDR5 up by 3-4% WoW). We think NVIDIA Jensen's Korea visit after Computex Taiwan may have further supported sentiment (e.g., NVIDIA's L-T concern on memory chip shortages). Taiwanese memory names have also reported robust May sales growth YoY (Nanya Tech +730%, Phison Electronics +301%, etc.). China also reported very strong IC imports for May (US$57bn +68% YoY) due to high chip prices (up near-70% YoY; volume down 1%). Overall, we expect memory chip pricing to remain strong across the region.

Samsung: dividend payments likely to be larger and earlier

Samsung Electronics (SEC) can be a dividend play, in our view. We outline a simple analysis showing why cash dividends for 2026 results could be W50-70tn, with half potentially paid 4-5 months earlier than usual: 1) annual FCF likely W200tn+/-; 2) 50% payout ratio (of FCF) well guided; 3) employee special bonus to be paid (Jan 2027) by buyback-based treasury shares; 4) Samsung Life's (032830 KS) 10.0% stake cap may require it to sell excess SEC shares following SEC's buyback; and 5) retail investor tax benefits if 2026 year-end dividends are distributed in a 50:50 or 40:60 split through 4Q26/1Q27. SEC's preferred shares could be more attractive to investors that focus on higher dividend yields.

BofA Korea Conference to reinforce super-cycle theme

We will host the Korea Conference over 15-19 June, marking its 18th anniversary with record high participants (~200 investors, ~120 corporates). We anticipate more bullish sentiment during the conference. Three reasons: memory expert forecasts (chip shortages for 2027 or even 2028 likely to be presented); corporate guidance (global leadership/growth in tech, robot, defense, power, beauty, consumer, etc); and more favorable fund flows (ETF, long-only money) and value-up program (dividend, buyback, US listing). The BofA Korea research team will host a large-group investor call on 23 June 9:00AM HKT to share what the analysts learned during the conference.

BofA Memory Indicator

Exhibit 8: Our memory indicator reached an all-time high of 189 in Mar/Apr-26, driven by exceptionally strong DRAM/NAND spot pricing, rising ASPs and billings, along with Korea's 150%+ export growth.

BofA Memory Indicator – back to upturn level since Oct-2025 and hit highest peak in Mar/Apr-26 (back-tested)

Note: Our indicator had previously been capped at ~140, but the recent unprecedented surge—driven by memory spot prices, ASPs, and billings—has led us to raise the ceiling (up to 240 levels) to reflect a more accurate relative comparison. This exceptional strength is further validated by strong earnings from memory chipmakers.

Price objective basis & riskSamsung Electronics (SSNLF)

Our PO of W440,000 is based on 11x 2027-28E P/E. This fair P/E of 11x is derived from long-term historical average (low-teens, peak cycle 7-10x, trough/mid-cycle 10-20x+) and bottom of proven foundry peer's 2009-2025 P/E band (10-20x), to be conservative (SEC's low EPS growth after 2026 upturn). Our GDR PO of US$7,400 is automatically calculated at an FX rate of near-W1.48k/USD. Downside risks are mostly related to US tariffs, 12/16-hi HBM execution, memory price cuts, large foundry loss and aggressive capex increase. Upside risks could come from US Big Tech (new orders for HBM and even 2nm node foundry), conventional memory cycle (significant price hike), restructuring plan (significant cost cut) and shareholder return (payout ratio increase).

Samsung Electronics Preferred (SSNNF)

Our PO of W300,000 for the preferred shares is based on a 32% fair discount (which is slightly higher than the past 6-month average) to the common shares, given no voting rights and limited cash dividend increase after special bonus and buyback. However, the dividend amount is almost the same for both types. This offers a higher yield for the preferred shares vs the common. The discount ratio (preferred share price vs common) was c.10% in 2021-22, but it rose to near-20% in 2024-25 (undervalued vs the common) and 30%+ in 1H26.

Common share PO of W440,000 is based on 11x 2027-28E P/E. FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Investment rating	Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating)	Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster ^{R2}
Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
Underperform	N/A	≥ 20%

^{R2} Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.
