On Tuesday, July 14th, we hosted Mr. Darren Woods, Chairman and CEO of ExxonMobil, to discuss key strategic initiatives. Key takeaways included: (1) Permian growth and technological advancements, (2) exploration opportunities, (3) M&A strategy, and (4) downstream earnings outlook. We left the meeting incrementally positive on the company's Upstream portfolio where management continues to deploy key technologies to unlock value, particularly in the Permian. In addition, we are constructive on the company's refining exposure which we believe should support earnings. Looking ahead, we continue to monitor for updates on the Upstream production profile, inorganic growth opportunities, structural cost reductions and LNG operations. Please see within for further details.

Across the Upstream portfolio, the company discussed operational execution, particularly in the Permian and Guyana, as well as ongoing exploration efforts. In the Permian, the company maintained its long-term production target, highlighting the key advantages from its proprietary technologies, including lightweight proppant which they continue to deploy. In Guyana, XOM highlighted strong operational execution as well as efforts to optimize reservoirs and unlock additional acreage under force majeure. In addition, management discussed additional opportunities across the portfolio, including in Trinidad, and is constructive on low-cost Mozambique and Papua projects. In regard to Venezuela, the company noted a stronger fiscal and regulatory backdrop is required for commercial investments, though noted potential for opportunities to leverage its technologies.

The company reiterated constructive global refining fundamentals, driven by low utilization levels and resilient global demand. Amid geopolitical supply disruptions, the company noted low global product inventories, putting pressure on prices. We also note the company maintains its view that any US export ban would be counterproductive and discussed that while the Jones Act waiver has enabled the flow of product from Gulf Coast to the East and West Coast, marginal products continue to be imported. At a company level, management remains focused on enhancing its product yield and capturing robust margins.

The company highlighted its role as a logical consolidator in the medium-term, noting its competitive advantages and proprietary technologies. Conversation was focused on technological advantages in the Lower 48, particularly the value of its light-weight proppant which continues to be deployed in the Permian. Further, the company sees re-fracking opportunities to optimize asset recovery, supported by a pipeline of stackable technologies. Management's framework around inorganic growth remains focused on driving operational and technological synergies to drive structural long-term value. More broadly, the company's capital allocation priorities are unchanged, where we note the company reaffirmed its commitment to maintaining a strong balance sheet while also investing in advantaged, high-return growth projects and steady buybacks through the cycle. We further note a focus on structural cost reductions where the company remains on track to deliver $20 bn of cost savings by 2030.

Valuation & Key Risks:

We are Neutral-rated on XOM, and our 12-month EV/DACF, FCF Yield, and P/E-based price target is $157. Key risks relate to commodity prices, refining margins, and operational execution.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
